Canada's Bisley Marksmen Win Kolapore Cup Team of Riflemen Brings Back Trophy Canada Lost in 1928

Dominion's Score at Three Ranges for Kolapore Cup at Bisley 1,083 and Great Britain's Team's Score 1,050; India Next, Followed by Guernsey and Jersey.

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 16 (By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—Canada won the Imperial Kolapore Cup this afternoon. Eight marksmen picked from the Canadian Bisley team recaptured the famous trophy Canada lost in 1928, winning by a margin of thirty-three points over Great Britain, with India, Guernsey and Jersey following in that order.

The Canadian team's aggregate was 1,083, while Great Britain's aggregate was 1,050.

The cup was shot for at three distances, 300, 500 and 600 yards. The standing of the five contesting countries at the 300-yard distance, first of the three ranges, was Canada 360, Great Britain 342, India 336, Guernsey 333, Jersey 325.

LEAD INCREASED
The Canadian team increased its lead to twenty-six points over Great Britain when the second of the three distances had been fired this afternoon. India, Guernsey and Jersey followed the two leaders. The Canadian's aggregate had reached 729 points to 703 for Great Britain.

VANCOUVER DEATH IS INVESTIGATED

T. D. Brown, Rugby Player, Found Unconscious, Dies in Hospital

Vancouver, July 16—Thomas Duffie Brown, family address 1121 Davis Street, died in the Vancouver General Hospital over the week-end under circumstances which call for an inquiry, which will be held late this afternoon. Known throughout the city as "Tom" Brown, one of Vancouver's best and oldest rugby players, Mr. Brown was chief accountant with a leading business firm and was considered a careful and reliable official.

Late Friday evening he was found lying on the sidewalk in the 600 block of Jackson Avenue. He appeared intoxicated and was taken to the police station. Next morning it was found he was unconscious and he was sent to the General Hospital, where he died without recovering his senses. He had a large bruise on the side of his head and detectives believe he may have been beaten or robbed or dozed, or all three, by someone he had fallen in with.

He will arrive late on August 24 and will remain until August 27. He will then proceed to Banff for a brief visit before going to the coast. This information was received through private sources to-day.

He will visit the Turner Valley oilfields and possibly some of the coal areas in the Calgary district.

TO-DAY BRINGS SEASON'S WILDEST WHEAT TRADING

Winnipeg, July 16.—Sensational fluctuations in wheat prices when the local market rode on the crest of a scorching prairie heat wave to new high levels for the year and then, swamped by a deluge of profit-taking, fell swiftly to more than 10 cents lower than the opening, marked to-day's trading as the wildest since Canada's wheat belt this season was threatened with ruin by lack of moisture and intense heat.

Laurence Taylor Sentenced to Five Years For Breaking and Entering

F. Wilson, Convicted of Possession of Stolen Rings, Remanded For Sentence

A sentence of five years in the penitentiary was imposed on Laurence Taylor by Judge Lampman in County Court to-day, following a previous plea of guilty on a charge of breaking and entering premises on St. Charles Street at night.

Frank Wilson, alias Joe Nelson, was convicted on speedy trial on a charge of unlawful possession of stolen property, and was remanded for sentence on Friday.

Five of the six rings exhibited to the court in evidence by the prosecution, were identified by Mrs. M. A. Fitzgibbon, their owner. The six rings were said to have been found in a stove on premises occupied by Wilson. Detective Marcus Phipps told of the arrest that followed.

Wilson, who conducted his own defence, cross-examined all witnesses at length, but was convicted, and remanded for sentence. W. H. Bullock, Webster appeared for the prosecution.

KING GEORGE IS GAINING AFTER HIS OPERATION

Bulletin Issued By Doctors Indicates Recuperation Normal, as Expected

London, July 16.—Much anxiety as to the condition of King George which remained after yesterday's encouraging reports on the operation performed then was relieved when another favorable bulletin was issued by his physicians this forenoon.

His Majesty's four doctors visited him in the forenoon and found his general state of health and the local condition of the operation which yesterday's operation was performed.

The bulletin said: "His Majesty passed a good night. Both general and local conditions are satisfactory."

During the morning the Prince of Wales came over from York House and stayed some time at the palace. It may be some time before the opening made yesterday for drainage of the abscess area at the right lung is healed. Meanwhile careful nursing will be necessary, but the royal patient's greatly increased strength and cheerful spirits have given confidence his recuperation will be normal.

It is understood to-day's bulletin was regarded with considerable satisfaction in court circles. The doctors' statement that the King's general condition was satisfactory was taken to indicate his health had not suffered to any great extent from the effects of the operation.

WATER SUPPLIES OF ENGLISH TOWNS ARE RUNNING LOW

Long Drought Causes Problems For Numerous Districts in Britain

London, July 16 (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—All over England the water supplies are again running low. Continued drought has brought many cities to the brink of a serious shortage. Manchester has only thirty days' supply left and at Hull the watering wells are far below normal. In the hill districts of Kent water is being taken by carts for considerable distances to fill both farm and domestic requirements.

Several deaths from the heat wave have been reported in the north of England.

Yesterday was St. Swithin's Day, and according to the old rhyme: "St. Swithin's Day, if it be fair, 'For forty days' 'till raine nas mair."

But St. Swithin enjoys at best a damaged reputation and he is likely to be wrong again, for thunderstorms are being promised by the weather man.

McL. Clarke, national secretary, who is visiting here to-day.

Captains of industry from every province in Canada in September will take part in one of the most important gatherings in the history of this growing organization.

KUBALA TRIED IN VAIN TO RESCUE FELLOW AIRMAN

Idzikowski Lost Life on Azores Island as Result of Plane Striking Stone Wall

Horta, Azores, July 16.—Major Casimir Kubala, painfully injured himself, tried in vain to rescue his comrade, Major Ludwik Idzikowski, from their burning plane, the Marshal Pilsudski, when it crashed on Graciosa Island Saturday night and ended their transatlantic venture. The first complete account of the disastrous termination of the two Polish fliers' attempt to fly from Le Bourget to New York was given to the Associated Press by an eyewitness, one of those who sought to save the airmen.

The body of Major Idzikowski was not removed from the plane until yesterday Sunday, a military guard standing by all night. A ceremonial funeral was held Sunday afternoon, the entire island civilian and military population following the coffin to a special vault.

Royal City May Hold No Fair This Year

New Westminster, July 16.—Among the proposals to be considered at a meeting of the New Westminster Exhibition directors Thursday morning is the abandoning of this year's fair, owing to the destruction of the building by fire last Sunday.

If this action is taken, every effort will be concentrated on holding a particularly fine fair next year. Careful consideration will be given to the offer to hold the New Westminster fair in Vancouver this year, and to a proposal to hold the fair in temporary buildings at the regular time or in October.

Many telegrams have been received from various points in Canada expressing regret concerning Sunday's conflagration at the exhibition grounds.

BARRIE MENTIONED FOR NEW PEERAGE

London, July 16.—The London Daily Mirror, without mentioning any authority, made the suggestion that Sir James M. Barrie, distinguished British novelist, would be the next man named a Labor peer. Sir James was in the lobby of the Commons yesterday talking to Scottish Socialist members, the newspaper said. It was recalled he had never been connected with politics or shown any desire for parliamentary or other public honors, towards which it has been believed he was averse.

Major Casimir Kubala, reported to-day as rapidly recovering from his injuries, is expected soon to return to Poland from the Azores. The body of Major Ludwik Idzikowski is to be taken home from Graciosa Island, where the voyagers' plane, the Marshal Pilsudski, last Saturday night crashed on landing and was destroyed, and it is expected Major Kubala, who was co-pilot with Major Idzikowski on the ill-starred Polish Paris-New York flight attempt, will travel aboard the same ship. Above are pictures of Major Kubala and the plane which failed.

Bus Carries Eleven Honduran Girls To Death In Abyss

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, July 16.—Laughing and happy at the end of a perfect day's picnicking, eleven Honduran high school girls yesterday went to their deaths when the truck in which they were riding crashed into a thousand-foot abyss near Susce, a few miles from here.

Twenty-two were hurt, some seriously, and the driver was killed. Salvador Gorrieto, Minister of Public Works, was seriously injured in attempting to reach the bottom of the abyss to aid in extricating the bodies from the wreckage.

It is not known what caused the truck to go over the side of the road.

Nanking Government Sends Spokesman to Moscow to Discuss Agreement

Heavy Troop Movements at Manchurian-Siberian Border Are Reported

Nanking, July 16.—The Foreign Office of the Chinese Nationalist Government at midnight to-night cabled a note to the Chinese Charge d'Affairs at Moscow stating a Chinese plenipotentiary was leaving Nanking for Moscow to discuss all pending matters with the Russian Foreign Commissar.

At the same time it was learned to-night that 15,000 Manchurian troops had been mobilized within the last forty-eight hours to reinforce the Chinese patrols on the Siberian border.

A heavy concentration of troops was known to be taking place at Manchuli. PROPAGANDA DESLICKED
The Nationalist Government's note stresses the fact that the Chinese are not interested in the Russian people. It states that unfortunately evidence that Soviet Russian agents in Chinese territory have been spreading communist propaganda endangering the Chinese Government and its social system had been discovered.

For the maintenance of order the Manchurian authorities have taken over the Chinese Eastern Railway and closed the Russian consulate in Harbin, the note explained.

AUSTRALIA IS ADVISED NOT TO RAISE TARIFF

Profitable Limit of Protection Already Reached, Say Economists

Melbourne, Australia, July 16 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)—Protection as a general principle is favored, but the "uneconomic way" is adversely criticized in the report of the independent committee of five economists appointed in 1927 to inquire into the effects of the tariff, according to The Melbourne Evening World.

The committee finds there is no available evidence to support the contention that Australia could maintain its present population at a higher standard of living under free trade than under the present protective tariff. It points out, however, that protection as applied at present must be considered wasteful in some instances and the cost of it is greater than the benefits derived.

UP TO LIMIT NOW
While pointing out there is a limit beyond which protection can not profitably be pushed, the committee says that from the economic point of view a considerable measure of protection is essential. It fears, however, that the profitable limit of protection in Australia has now been reached. The cost to the country as a whole is estimated at $180,000,000.

Further steps to press the matter to a conclusion, the committee says, should be taken. It suggests that the City Council be asked to take steps to provide Victoria with a proper airport; or failing this that notification be given to outside aviators that the present landing field here is in a dangerous condition for landing and taking off.

That the City Council be asked to follow up closely and press for a conclusion of a move made some time ago to establish a seaplane base at the foot of Erie Street.

DANGEROUS
Seathing comment upon the condition of the Lansdowne field, formerly used as an airport for the B.C. Airways Ltd., was made by members of the committee. Aeroplanes from outside points flying to this port were endangered in landing owing to this condition they said.

A license had been granted for this field, it was pointed out, and the city was marked on aviation maps as being equipped with proper facilities for landing and taking off in planes. Hay stacks on the field and the bad surface however made the place dangerous and if some steps were not taken to put the field in shape aviators should be notified of the existing conditions.

With further added, that at only a nominal cost, the city might make arrangements to take over the present field and make it suitable for airport purposes.

THOUSANDS SPENT
The importance of placing the city on the air map was strongly stressed. Vancouver had spent several thousands of dollars in developing an air terminal and Seattle had spent hundreds of thousands. Victoria must have a place in aerial transportation on the continent.

With regard to the seaplane base, George I. E. Ker was named secretary, stated his information was that a reputable air transportation firm was now considering the extension of its services to Victoria, but before taking further steps to press the matter to a satisfactory conclusion should immediately be made by the Council.

NEW CHAIRMAN
At the conclusion of the meeting, R. H. A. Ker was named to succeed Mr. Hall, who asked permission to resign as chairman.

The chamber directors will consider the committee's recommendations at their next meeting after which it is expected a resolution will be forwarded to the Council.

U.S. STEEL TO RETIRE BONDS

New York, July 16.—Directors of the United States Steel Corporation to-day voted to retire the ten to sixty-year five per cent bonds of 1909 at $110 and accrued interest. There is $133,372,000 in principal amount of these bonds outstanding.

The resolution calls the bonds for redemption November 1. The major part of the fifty-year five per cent bonds of 1911 have also been called. For the purpose of this retirement of funded debt, the company last April offered rights to purchase new stock at $140 in the ratio of one new share for each seven held. It was announced subscriptions had been received for 1,009,485 shares, or 99.3 per cent of the offer.

B.C. COAST-CALGARY TRAVEL RECORD IS SET BY AEROPLANE

Calgary, July 16.—Having set a new record for speedy travel between Vancouver and Calgary the tri-motored Fokker plane Rio Grande is here to-day. It arrived at 6:20 p.m. yesterday, three hours and thirty-five minutes after it had left the British Columbia coast city. The plane did not seek mountain passes, but flew in a straight line over the mountains at an elevation of 12,000 feet, carrying six persons.

APPEALING HUMAN INTEREST STORY ON DOMINION SCREEN

"The Shakedown," a Universal sound and talking production co-starring the handsome young James Murray and adorable Barbara Kent, opened yesterday at the Dominion Theatre. William Wyler directed it from a story by Chas. A. Logue.

A good human story, plot twists that make for suspense and surprise, well modulated and forceful dialogue and a high type of acting combine to make this picture out of the ordinary. William Wyler proved his mettle as a director with "Anybody Here Seen Kelly." In "The Shakedown" he shows even greater ability at handling human characters and in the deft incidental touches that make a screen story appealing.

Murray plays the role of a young oil derrick rigger enmeshed in a fake fight racket. Barbara Kent is a waitress in an oil field lunch room.

SCORES ATTEND FUNERAL OF MARK GRAHAM

Impressive Tribute Signifies Esteem For Man Who Served Community Well

Impressive tribute to a citizen who served his community well and faithfully was paid by many Victorians at the funeral yesterday of the late Mark Graham, who passed away suddenly last week.

Representatives of practically all service organizations in the city attended the simple but touching ceremony conducted in St. John's Church by Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, while hundreds of personal friends mingled with the large group of mourners.

Masonic burial rites, usually carried out at the grave, supplemented the usual Church of England service in the church, the worshipful master of Camosun Lodge, of which Mr. Graham was a member, officiating. The hymn "Lead Kindly Light" was sung.

Following the service, the casket was conveyed, in procession to the dock, where the remains were shipped to Seattle for cremation.

MANY FLOWERS The multitude of flowers, representing the tribute of the many organizations with which Mr. Graham was connected, and which covered the casket, were afterwards placed on the War Memorial cenotaph in Parliament Square.

A solemn procession, headed by the Canadian Scottish band, under Bandmaster James M. Miller, accompanied the casket to the boat and along the route, hundreds of Victorians stood bareheaded to do reverence to a worthy citizen. The cortege proceeded via Quadra, Yates, Douglas and Belleville Streets.

On the return from the boat, a set ritual was observed by the Masonic delegation in the Masonic Temple.

FALLBEARERS The honorary pallbearers were B. C. Nicholas, representing the Canadian Club; George McGregor, Y.M.C.A.; Donald MacLeod, the Kiwanis Club; W. Vaughan Roberts, Jubilee Hospital; R. W. Mayhew, Chamber of Commerce, and Stephen Jones, the Victoria Liberal Association. The active pallbearers were all Masons, as follows: Worshipful Bro. E. W. Hetherington, Bros. W. Jeune, J. V. Weston, George Brown and W. Bros M. H. Taylor and H. M. Digson.

and will show at the Capitol to-day and to-morrow.

The added specialties include a 100 per cent talking musical comedy entitled "After Seben," featuring fifty beautiful dancing and singing girls and a stellar cast of comedians. The other specialty offers the inimitable comedian, Robert Brenchly, in a motion picture comedy hit.

"Divorce Made Easy," Al Christie's comedy drama, made its debut at the Capitol Theatre last night. This production marks the entry of Douglas MacLean and Marie Prevost into the talkies, and by all accounts these two stars have made for themselves a overnight in this new form of entertainment.

"Divorce Made Easy" is from the Paramount Pictures studio, and is a production filled with drama, comedy action and heart interest. The balance of the talking cast is of high calibre. It is a 100 per cent talking production.

W. E. STANLAND GOING TO PARIS WITH ENRIGHT

Victoria Commissioner to Be Guest Speaker at International Police Conference

Victoria is to be represented at the International Police Conference in Paris in November by Police Commissioner Walter E. Stanland as a result of a personal message sent from New York by Commissioner Enright, who is president of the international organization.

Fifty-four countries, including Canada, will be represented at the conference.

At the last world police conference, which was held in New York, Commissioner Stanland was one of the representatives from Canada, and he became closely associated with Commissioner Enright. As a result of these associations, Commissioner Enright has now asked the Victoria Commissioner to accompany him from New York across the Atlantic as a member of the presidential party to Paris and to be one of the guest speakers at the big gathering. Commissioner Stanland said that he had not decided yet on the subject of his address, but it would likely have to do with police activities in the western part of this continent, as this would be a subject of interest to those who are carrying on the police work in the more thickly settled parts of the world.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED "The world, as a result of transportation and communication advances, is now so small that the crook can get from one place to another very quickly," Commissioner Stanland said to-day in discussing the Paris conference. "The great thing in police work in following the international crook is to get co-operation and co-ordination between the forces of the various nations, so as to block effective movements and activities."

During the Paris conference there will be demonstration of their skill by the famous Paris police and there will be tours to the leading European prisons and reformatory institutions.

The annual school meeting was held in the school house on Saturday evening. Trustee H. Pearce was elected chairman and W. T. Dixon secretary. Annual reports were read and considered satisfactory.

Mrs. A. C. Jackson was again elected trustee and H. A. Hincks re-elected trustee. The school received a grant of $1,800 for the ensuing year. The meeting passed a vote of thanks to all who assisted the basketball team with transportation.

H. Hincks moved a vote of thanks to the trustees for their work during the year.

A vote of confidence and thanks was passed to the staff of the health and school nurse of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service.

A report of medical inspection of the school was presented by Dr. Irene Bastow Hudson. Pupils' progress and teachers' methods were reviewed in a report from W. H. M. May, Provincial School Inspector. Votes of thanks were passed to the teachers, Miss L. Peacey and Miss H. Guy.

Noble Work Nears End

After fourteen years of appeal to the generosity of the people, the Near East Relief campaign for the termination of its campaign for money. The noble work will not immediately cease, but it advances the opinion that the era of drives for war relief and post-war reconstruction has logically reached its end.

It is estimated that since the Near East Relief began its merciful work, 1,500,000 lives have been saved, including 132,852 children. During famine periods 12,500,000 persons were fed. More than 6,000,000 received medical aid.

But its work cannot be adequately stated in figures; new life forces have been released in the ancient lands that will have a profound effect on their future. The task of the Near East Relief was not merely to feed the hungry or to clothe the ragged and destitute, but to train and educate the thousands of children that came into its keeping. Thousands of waifs, orphaned by war or pestilence, are today self-supporting and self-respecting young men and women, an honor to their hands and hearts to the people who supplied the funds for their upbringing. Many of them are holding responsible positions in soviet Armenia, Syria, Egypt and Greece.

However, there remain 20,000 children still too young to be graduated from the organization's schools or for whom homes have not been found. It will take two or three years more to complete the overseas work, but funds already pledged will be sufficient. So far as the country at large is concerned, the Near East Relief has withdrawn from the field of nation-wide campaigning. We can regard its work as virtually done and take a vast pride in its splendid record.

PRAYER BOOK DEBATE SOON IN BRITISH HOUSE

London, July 16 (Canadian Press Cable).—The much debated revised Prayer Book of the Church of England probably will be discussed in the House of Commons again following its endorsement by the bishops assembled in the convocations of Canterbury and York last week.

H. Knight, Laborite, Nottingham South, intended to draw the Prime Minister's attention to the bishops' decision "to authorize variations in the order of public worship which had been submitted to and rejected by the House of Commons" and to ask whether in the interests of public order and good government Premier MacDonald would not exert his influence on the bishops to set an example to the nation of obedience to law and respect for the sanctity of a contract.

The question was not put yesterday and to-day Mr. Knight told reporters he understood some technical objection had been taken to the question in its present form. He said the issue would have to be restated.

"It is quite intolerable," he declared, "that such a question should be raised in the House of Commons should pass unopposed or that its import may not be raised in appropriate form."

STRESSING LEAGUE AIMS TO TEACHERS

Through the kindness and sympathy of the authorities concerned, the local branch of the League of Nations Society in Canada is being enabled to put the cause of peace before the teachers, who are assembled from all parts of the Province at the Summer School at Victoria High School.

On Friday, Dean Quanton gave a much appreciated lecture on "Education for Peace" to the whole school.

The society provides free literature on the league and the peace movement to any teacher who asks for it. They have a display of this literature in the school library. Later in the session they will show their lantern lectures, which have been specially designed to present the necessity for peace and the accomplishments of the League of Nations in a vivid and interesting manner to children.

MARLER URGES TRADE INCREASE

Toronto, July 16.—"Canada has not taken the fullest advantage of her opportunity for trade with the Orient. I regret I must say that, but our trade figures show it," said Hon. Herbert Marler, recently appointed Canadian Minister to Japan, in an address to the Toronto Canadian Club and Board of Trade yesterday.

"While our trade increased by $10,480,309 in 1928 as compared with the previous fiscal year, there is great room for improvement. Japan's imports in 1927 were more than $1,000,000,000 of which $370,000,000 came from North America. However, Canada's share of that amount was only $30,000,000, which is not sufficient."

In closing, the minister made a strong appeal for the support of Canadian citizens. "I feel sure that with your support Canada will soon get the amount of trade with Japan to which she is entitled."

"Our first duty is to maintain friendly relations with Japan, and it that is carried out the direct effect will be in making Canada better known and improving markets," he declared.

Mr. Marler said great interest had been aroused by the appointment of a Canadian Minister to Japan. The establishment of a Canadian Legation came under two main headings, namely, political significance and a commercial aspect. However, the political significance had nothing to do with commercial partnership at all. Ministers had no political affiliation and spoke, not for any particular party, but for the country as a whole.

The commercial activities, he said, embraced immigration, trade and commerce and like matters.

HOUSING SCHEME ROUSES CRITICISM IN BRITISH HOUSE

London, July 16 (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—The MacDonald Government was again attacked yesterday in the House by its friends, Right Hon. John Wheatley, who was Minister of Health in the Labor Government of 1924 and as such had charge of its housing scheme, the only Socialist "baby," as he called it, was the chief attacker.

From the back benches, where the Laborites from the Clydeside sit, Mr. Wheatley declared he was "disappointed" with the housing measure submitted by Right Hon. Arthur Greenwood, his successor in office.

The burden of Mr. Wheatley's criticism was one which he said was familiar by the left wing of the Labor Party, namely, that the measure does not go far enough. The former Minister of Health in the Conservative Government of 1924, who was Minister of Health in the Labor Government of 1924, and as such had charge of its housing scheme, the only Socialist "baby," as he called it, was the chief attacker.

BRITISH FILMS LIE PROSTRATE

London, July 16.—"The British film industry is not only prostrate and without hope of rising, it is prostrate to America, the American industry," says a writer in The London Star.

"Hollywood," he says, "has ruled the world of the cinema for years. Its domination has been more firmly riveted upon us now than ever before. Protests against 'Americanization' talk of 'Yankee' voices and transatlantic slang is beside the point. Unless we do not make for a thin, expected change of taste in the British cinema public takes place, nothing can help us."

British exhibitors do not seem to think it will, for they simply will not book alien films ahead. They are all devotees of the talkie.

The big leaders of the film industry, the writer adds, knew that "talkies" were coming, and were interested in investigation. But they set their faces like flint against the actual beginning of an innovation which would make much of their assets useless, destroy the carefully-built up value of stars who could not speak any language properly, and would call for a complete reorganization of their huge industry.

Germany is reducing. The shop windows of every German city and town are crowded with reducing remedies. Rubber rollers and reducing belts, pills, solutions, mineral salts, exercisers, contraptions of every description are being used to make the modern German weight-conscious. Medical authorities report a measure of success.

When the movement first started it was hard to say. Some claim that it was introduced just before the war. Others state that the shortage of food during the war brought back many figures that had been covered with extra layers of tissue. When food started being more plentiful those who had reduced because of strict diets decided to keep slim.

Then came the wall of the doctors, who wrote treatises, and the journalists, who wrote amusing articles. They all patted the nation on the back for returning to God-given form, but instead of the caricature-like forms that the Germans have always been noted for. But the reform did not take.

Although the avelte lines were considered elegant and fashionable, the German hausfrau and staid burgher could not keep away from beer and potatoes. They took food into themselves the rotund form. All of this annoyed the younger Germans, who pointed to France and more especially to America, as examples of what a people should look like. But centuries of good brews and solid food could not be denied.

Then came the cry of the dietician. It rings throughout the republic in louder tones each day. The old diet has been drawn over the coals. It is all wrong, they shout. Heavy meats and potatoes do not make for a thin people. Numerous glasses of good brew are not conducive to a svelte physique. The stolid citizen at first kept his ears shut to the cajoling of color specialists. Doctors admonished their patients, pointing out the benefits of a normal weight. The movement grew as the trumpet call drove masters and paunchy husbands to the scales. Weighing machines appeared on all corners.

Recently I counted four automatic scales in one block in Stuttgart. The general use of weighing machines throughout Germany made them a good medium for advertising. The automatic scales dispense a printed card on which is noted the date and weight, and a reducing slogan. On the back of the slip appears an advertisement for almost any sort of article from a six room modern house to a brand of non-fattening chocolates.

But the German still loves his chocolates and his potatoes and his heavy meats and his beer. When propaganda found that you could not move a nation to give up its century-old habits of food they turned to the dissemination of balanced ration knowledge. Vegetarian eating houses are to be found in every city. They are well patronized, but not as well as the beer restaurants.

Although there are temperance leagues in Germany, there is very little hope held out that they will be successful in forcing prohibition on the country. Anti-prohibitionists predict a revolution in Bavaria and secession from the republic if such an event were to occur.

"It is not really the beer," according to Herr Joseph Lex, director of one of Munich's largest hotels and restaurants, "The balanced diet is the only remedy for the decrease of embonpoint. Here in Munich our beer is no more harmful than a glass of mineral water. And really, you must believe me, as healthful."

HAPPYLAND GIVES SCOUTS ON ADVENTURE A THRILL

Four Boy Scouts From Queen Charlotte Islands on First Visit to Big Cities Enter Land of Fun With Fifty Tickets Each and Have Wonderful Time; Are Spending Few Days Here.

Four boys, who composed the only scout troop on the Queen Charlotte Islands, are in Victoria today completing one gorgeous round of sightseeing, entertainment and whole-hearted fun.

Not one of the lads had seen a big city, had heard the roar of heavy traffic, or had ridden on a street car until Vancouver was reached last week. Three of them were born at Port Clements, where they now reside, and the other was so young when he went there he remembers nothing of the outside world.

Alfred Pelton, who is fourteen years old, is the patrol leader. His second in command is Lawrence Rennie, while Robert Tingley and Ernie Chapman complete the patrol. Scoutmaster N. L. Jones, who took charge of the boys a little over a year ago, is with them.

Unlike most scouts of the age, who for a holiday want to get away into the backwoods, do their own cooking and live an unrestrained life for a week or two, these boys had as their secret desire a trip to a big city. They have plenty of hills to climb, forests to roam and streams to swim at their backdoors, but the glamour of the city with its tall buildings, modern devices and concrete pavements held a strong urge for them.

STARTED A YEAR AGO

And these scouts were not the type of boys who go to "dad" and ask him for money to go on such a journey. Self-reliant and determined they started nearly a year ago to earn enough money to take them on this earnestly looked-for holiday. Odd jobs here and there swelled their "stockings" little by little, and the prospects grew brighter and brighter.

Meanwhile the residents of the small community learned of the boys' ambitions. When socials were staged to help swell the fund, everyone turned out and bought a piece of cake or a sample of handwork until at last there was enough money to provide a three week's trip.

The excitement which prevailed when they were ready to leave can be imagined. Everyone turned out to watch these sturdy lads start out upon what to them was a really big adventure.

STEP LIVELY

After leaving Prince Rupert, their first port of call, the scouts advanced on Vancouver, traveling on the same boat as Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce, who invited them to visit Government House.

"After arriving in Vancouver the boys soon found they had to step lively," said Scoutmaster Jones. "They never tired of admiring the sights." But in Happyland at Hastings Park the boys were thrilled to the backbone with all the gliders and merry-go-rounds and rides which are the joy of every red-blooded youth. With fifty tickets apiece, the present of the management, they enjoyed themselves to the fullest.

"Perhaps the only trouble has been that we have been given too much of a good time," the Scoutmaster said. "Everywhere we've been things have been planned for us from one hour to the next."

H. T. Ravenhill, assistant provincial commissioner of Boy Scouts, met the

VISIT MUSEUM

Their first visit was to the Provincial Museum where Miss Alma Russell directed their tour. Afterwards they proceeded to Government House and were entertained at tea by His Honor and Miss Mackenzie.

Later they were taken by Mr. Ravenhill to see some of the sights of the city and in the evening were guests of St. Mary's Troop in camp at the Gorge.

This morning, under Mr. Ravenhill's direction, the boys viewed the Government drydock at Esquimalt and the plant of Yarrow's Limited. This afternoon arrangements were made for a trip to the beautiful Benvenuto Gardens.

The end of this wonderful holiday comes to-night, however, although the boys will be several days before reaching their home to tell of the marvelous things they have seen.

CONVICTED ON CHEQUE CHARGE

W. W. Williamson, also charged under the name of W. W. Haddock, was convicted in City Police Court this morning on a charge of obtaining a sum of money by false pretences from the Royal Bank of Canada. Suspended sentence was imposed by Magistrate George Jay.

B. G. Washington, assistant accountant for the main branch of the bank in Vancouver, and W. C. Housley, clerk in the local branch, appeared for the prosecution. Mr. Washington testified an account in the name of W. W. Haddock was opened in the Vancouver branch November 3, 1928, and closed June 12, 1929, the largest balance at any time being $15.

Mr. Housley said the accused approached him in the local bank to certify a cheque for $50. Upon representation made to him by the accused, he did so.

No defence was entered. C. K. Courtney, counsel for the accused, appeared for leniency before sentence was passed, explaining the accused was a sixty per cent war disability case with a sick wife and three children.

RACING DRIVER DOES EIGHTY MILES AN HOUR

"Ab" Jenkins of N.Y. Thrills Victorians as He Races on Finnerty Road

Holds Records For Transcontinental Drive and Continuous Driving Test in Town

Thrilling all who saw him as he sped along Finnerty Road at eighty miles an hour, "Ab" Jenkins, well-known racing driver from New York, gave a demonstration of the power of the modern Studebaker "President Straight 8" yesterday afternoon.

Jenkins' roadster held the road beautifully as it tore along a mile stretch of road, which was not the very best of condition for fast driving such as Mr. Jenkins did. Twice he raced this distance at eighty miles an hour and a third time he did sixty-five miles, as he changed from high into second gear.

Chief of Police Allan Rankin of Sanich co-operated with the Jameson Motor Company and held all traffic off Finnerty Road while the test was being made. Mr. Jenkins arrived in Victoria yesterday morning from Vancouver and left at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon for Seattle.

Jenkins gave his exhibition in the same trim President 8 roadster which he helped drive 30,000 miles in 26,627 minutes, the identical car which holds eleven out of thirteen world's records set by Studebaker stock cars.

Jenkins became a racing driver as the result of a bet. One of his friends wagered that he could not beat the time of the fastest train from New York to San Francisco. So Ab left his business, which was general contracting, for a short period, got out his privately-owned Studebaker and set out for San Francisco one Tuesday night at 8 p.m.

He was punching a time clock in the Union Station at San Francisco at exactly 10:40 p.m. the following Friday—seventy-seven hours and forty minutes later.

He had no sleep en route driving night and day, and had had nothing to eat but two sandwiches and a pint of ice cream, but he beat that fastest train by twenty-two hours and thirty-one minutes, including all stops, and would still have beaten it by twelve hours and eighteen minutes if the train had not stopped at all in its westward journey. The record for the journey has never been beaten. He has also established a world's record of 1,228 miles in twenty-four hours driving cross-country in a stock car.

He tells the story of this terrific trip in a very calm, matter-of-fact way; tells of jumping a five-foot fence at seventy-five miles an hour as coolly as if he were describing the way in which he likes his eggs, cooked for breakfast.

In Iowa, he said, his guide forgot to mention a certain curve. The consequence was that he hit this curve at seventy-five miles an hour, struck a slight embankment topping a ditch, hurled a five-foot fence nine feet away and landed right side up in a farmer's grain field—and kept right on going!

CONTINUED RACE

The casing surrounding the steering column and a few things of minor importance were broken. But that did not prevent him from continuing the race and establishing his two records.

A policeman in Carney, Neb., proved another handicap on this particular journey. Ab says he was only "wafting" through the town when the policeman caught him. He decided, however, that the quickest way out of the difficulty was to plead guilty and pay his fine. This was assessed at $15.50 and told. And the policeman received fifteen cents change from Ab's twenty-dollar bill with the injunction, "Go and buy yourself a cigar." In addition to the fine the episode cost Ab one hour and fifteen minutes of precious time.

"I was annoyed," Ab confessed. "I went wide open out of that town. The cop chased me but he couldn't catch me."

That was the only time this racing driver to whom eighty miles an hour on the open road is like forty miles an hour to the ordinary driver, and who drives about 75,000 miles a year, has ever been arrested for speeding.

As a result of this thrilling cross-country trip, the Studebaker Corporation made Ab so flattering an offer that he renounced general contracting forever to become a Studebaker racing test driver.

Since then he has won all contests in which he was entered and has never failed to set a record for the particular event. All records of course, he has made with Studebaker cars.

Ab is now touring the continent demonstrating the same speedy President Eight roadster which set the world's record for stock cars of 30,000 miles in 26,627 minutes. He is still setting new local records for hill-climbing, etc.

After its gruelling 30,000-mile test, he says, his roadster needed only to have its valves ground and new piston rings installed in the way of repairs or replacements. This is an entirely normal reaction, he points out. It will still do an easy ninety miles an hour, he says.

NO BLAME FOR AUTO TRAGEDY

Jury Exonerates Driver of Car Which Caused Death of Thomas Liddiard

A verdict of accidental death with the driver of an automobile exonerated from blame was returned this morning by the coroner's jury investigating the death of Thomas Liddiard, seventy-four-year-old blind man of 1036 Queen's Avenue who died in the Jubilee Hospital as the result of injuries received last Friday.

The jury found that death was caused by being struck by the automobile which Arthur Pinkerton was backing out of a garage on Queen's Avenue for Joseph Worthing, but the driver used every caution. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, said he agreed with the jury's finding. The accident was one

BACKING SLOWLY

Miss Janet V. Duncanson of Queen's Avenue, eyewitness of the tragedy, was the only witness called at the inquiry this morning, adjourned from yesterday. She said she lived opposite Mr. Worthing's house on Queen's Avenue. She saw Mr. Pinkerton backing Mr. Worthing's car out of the runway and Mr. Worthing following. She saw the car hit Mr. Liddiard as he was on the sidewalk. It knocked him over and as he fell on the sidewalk witness covered her eyes so she could not see any more. She thought the wheels would go over him. When she looked again he was underneath the car with his feet in. She saw Mr. Worthing and Mr. Pinkerton go to his assistance. She had known Mr. Liddiard for seven years. He had been in the habit of going about the streets, and just lately had been totally blind. Answering questions she said the car was backing out slowly. She did not hear a crash.

The jury went to the scene of the accident before returning a verdict.

AN AIRPORT WANTED

LAST SUNDAY EVENING A SUPER tri-motored Fokker passenger aeroplane landed at Vancouver's temporary airport after a nine-hour trip from Los Angeles. It is described as the largest plane which has ever visited the city across the gulf.

We are interested in this incident. We are inclined to suggest that if this city could have boasted an airport capable of accommodating a machine of this description, its first port of call in Canada would have been Victoria. It is true that Vancouver's facilities for handling land machines are far from what they might be; even at that, however, they are much better than the facilities which exist here.

Nor should it be forgotten, of course, that the taxpayers of Vancouver recently voted in favor of spending $300,000 for an up-to-date airport. Negotiations still are proceeding in regard to a site, and a statement which Mayor Malkin made yesterday to the committee in charge of these negotiations would seem to indicate the official attitude towards the matter. He said: "All I have to say to these committees now is, for goodness sake, get some quick action. I will call a special meeting of the Council as soon as you have something to report as regards a site and development policy."

It is gratifying to learn that the aviation committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce is dealing with the matter of providing facilities for the handling of aeroplanes here as well as seaplanes. Its activities should have the support of the general public. For we must make up our minds to the fact that unless Victoria establishes an airport which will be satisfactory to international aviation officials, we need not expect such visits—and the consequent business—as that which obviously pleased Vancouver on Sunday.

Before the giant machine left the Terminal City the party assured civic officials that if Vancouver went ahead and established a first-class airport—which it intends to do—there would always be a large number of week-end visitors by the aeroplane route.

There is no reason to doubt this statement. The popularity of aviation bids fair soon to rival that of motoring. But we must build the "bird house" if we want the "birds" to come.

TARIFF GOSPEL

WE ARE TOLD THAT THE POLITICAL gospel which is being preached by Hon. R. B. Bennett is "Canada for the Canadians." We believe in "Canada for the Canadians"—first, last and all the time. But we are at a loss to understand how the leader of the opposition reconciles the text of his gospel with the working policies he is advocating.

Mr. Bennett would engage in a tariff war with the United States. He is impatient because the Government at the last session of Parliament did not increase the import duties on practically everything Canada imports from the neighboring republic. The fact that the tariff bill which has been submitted to Congress is being opposed by about ninety per cent. of the press of the United States, that even the President and many of his supporters are beginning to be doubtful about the wisdom of disturbing their country's business with Canada, fails to influence Mr. Bennett's reasoning processes. The opposition leader would go ahead at once and raise our own tariff wall—and, of course, give the Republican party in the United States just the sort of encouragement it would welcome to stiffen its back in the face of the opposition which it is encountering.

Mr. Bennett's gospel of "Canada for the Canadians" also includes opposition to the British Preference. He does not believe in a policy which is making for the development of trade between the various parts of the British Empire, particularly with Great Britain. When the Laurier Government extended certain privileges to the British exporter, the party of which Mr. Bennett now is the leader fought it tooth and nail. The late Sir Charles Tupper predicted industrial desolation for Canada if that scheme were carried out. Ever since then the Conservative Party has opposed these concessions; and when Mr. Bennett talks about inter-Empire trade, he is merely talking for political effect. We have yet to learn that he has voted in favor of lowering the duties on British goods entering this country.

In view of the opposition leader's attitude to these questions, therefore, we say we do not understand how he reconciles his gospel of "Canada for the Canadians" with his idea of the practical application of the theory. It must be plain to the average Canadian by this time that if Mr. Bennett were permitted to force his fiscal policy upon this country, the cost of living at once would increase.

The first result of Mr. Bennett's fiscal policy would be loss of population through such higher living costs. His plan would not work. A country's progress and development in the material sense always will be measured by the purchasing power of its people. Curtail that for the benefit of the few, and stagnation is bound to set in.

FLORIDA AND VICTORIA

NOT VERY LONG AGO WE WERE told that practically everything on wheels in the United States was headed towards Florida. Fortunes were being made overnight. It was the modern El Dorado. Then Nature took a hand and blasted the hopes of many of the get-rich-quick investors. From a speculative point of view, we have heard very little about Florida for some time. Now we are told that within the last two weeks eight banks in that state have closed their doors. This statement furnishes its own explanation.

We do not know what impression the lesson of Florida and other "booms" has left upon the minds of those who were out after easy money and failed to find it. They may be waiting for another opportunity to recoup their losses. Some people are that way. Like the born gambler, they always have a scheme to break the bank. It works well in theory; but in practice the unexpected usually happens. The tragic point about the crave for easy money, however, is the peculiar disregard for opportunities which would yield certain substantial returns. They are not spectacular investments. They do not demand the daily presence before the market board in a stockbroker's office. They do not disturb the sleep, and there is no feverish excitement over a point that is dropped or a point that is gained. They are just solid investments which, perhaps, are assisting in the development of the community in which the investor lives. But those are the durable investments, not only because of the financial yield to the individual, but also because they are practical contributions to the cause of community loyalty.

We in Victoria are letting many opportunities slip by. We continue to send millions of dollars out of town every year for many commodities we should be producing here. We do not know whether our men of means, whether those who already are on the land, really realize what could be done with the southeastern end of Vancouver Island in an agricultural sense. The Saanich Peninsula alone should be supporting a population many times that which it at present is supporting. Nature has been kind to this part of British Columbia. Her moods are even; we are spared the convulsions which from time to time destroy life and property in Florida and other parts of the continent. Do we appreciate what we have? Are we making the best of it?

IS IT TRUE?

IT IS ANNOUNCED FROM BERLIN that the new German battleship which has caused something of a sensation in Europe will be provided with equipment for the use of poison gas.

This is supposed to be the first time that the design for a battleship has included this sort of provision. It is all the more remarkable that Germany should lead the way—despite the fact that she set a bad example on the western front in 1915—since only a short time ago she declared that she never again would resort to the use of poison gas. Several other nations joyfully acclaimed her decision.

If this report from Berlin is true, therefore, Germany must not be surprised if her word still shall be doubted by other nations. She will be judged only by her deeds.

IRREPRESSIBLE YOUTH

NOT TO BE OUTDONE BY THE United States, Great Britain has just staged her own aviation sensation. It differs considerably from the incident which Culver City celebrated the other day. But it is unique none the less.

A young airman, without any knowledge of how to fly an aeroplane other than that he had obtained from textbooks, called the bluff of a comrade who bet him he could not take a plane up himself. He climbed into a huge two-motored bomber, capable of carrying ten persons, and took a four-hour joy ride in the south of England. Aeroplanes and automobiles went out to try and find him, while ambulances and the fire brigade stood ready to pick up the pieces. As he neared the aerodrome to land, watchers held their breath; surely he must crash. Nothing of the kind happened. Although the pace was a little fast, the landing was almost perfect.

So much for the sportive and romantic side of the story. As soon as the young man stepped out of the machine he was arrested and now awaits court-martial. But we venture to suggest that he will consider such punishment as he may get to be easier to bear than the loss of the bet would have been. Incidentally, foolhardy as his behavior was, the incident reminds us that the spirit of adventure still reposes in the British race.

EXPANSION OF THOUGHT

The Christian Science Monitor

During the last half century or more there has been a steady trend toward the enjoyment of fuller freedom of thought and action. Modern inventions have done away with many limitations in regard to travel and other activities. In the main these are progressive steps; and they prove that men are expressing more of God-given dominion.

These changes indicate outwardly, in a measure, what is taking place in the realm of thought. If human progress were merely mechanical, or even merely intellectual, we might well entertain grave doubts as to the benefits derived therefrom. The most important progress is that which is being made in moral and spiritual development; and herein lies the hope of humanity.

There is great joy in gaining freedom from limitations of every kind. The mortal who has been burdened with the belief that his health is limited and uncertain looks up with joy to God, man's heavenly Father. Mother, as the infinite source of health, and thus becomes healthier and happier. Think of the joy and freedom that come to humanity as the shackles of sin drop off! God has provided all good for man. His well-beloved child; and nothing can hinder one from utilizing this truth and thus enjoying his heavenly heritage. These words of a familiar hymn place before us grand possibilities:

"When God is seen with men to dwell,
 And all creation makes anew,
 What tongue can half the wonders tell?
 What eye the dazzling glories view?"

Loose Ends

The Baldwin Government's family skeleton is out at last—or rather 3,000 of them—and the prospect here is alarming—modern woman follows scientific principle—and Mr. Rockefeller drives a buckboard

By H. B. W.

THE MOST grisly state secret of the late Conservative Government of Britain has just been revealed. It is nothing less astounding than that Mr. Baldwin, during his term of office received as gifts from admiring citizens not 300 cherrywood pipes, as first reported, but 3,000! Mingled with them were innumerable tobacco pouches, many decorated in red, white and blue, with stirring, ungrammatical legends hailing Mr. Baldwin as the saviour of his country. Thus if Mr. Baldwin were to smoke a different pipe every day, he would be unable to christen all of them under about twenty-three years. As twenty-three years, every day of them, are required to break in one pipe to a really satisfactory fragrance, it is likely that 7,999 of these offerings from a grateful country will remain unburnt and innocent of tobacco.

THE TRAGEDY of these 7,999 pipes, however, is not the alarming aspect of the Conservative Government's family secret, now out. As The Manchester Guardian observes in a soberly-worded editorial, the habit of giving to public men presents of this sort is likely to have serious results. Mr. Churchill's hobby, the Guardian points out, is building brick walls, and it wonders if his home is littered with hods and trowels of every shape and make, the offerings of misguided partisans. Had this objectionable gift-giving habit started in Mr. Gladstone's time, The Guardian suggests, the presenters of axes to this famous wood-chopper would have been so numerous that his home at Hawarden would not have held the armoury.

MORE ALARMING still is the prospect of this fashion spreading to our own land. One hesitates and shudders to think what will happen if the grateful Conservatives of British Columbia start to contribute to the hobbies of the Prime Minister. If this is going to happen, we might as well steel ourselves now to the sight of Jersey cows grazing upon the grass of Parliament Square, Hereford heifers tethered in the Legislative Chamber, Guernsey bulls guarding the Executive Chamber and miscellaneous pure-bred hogs scampering down the corridors of government. Before this thundering herd can reach the Capital the non-smoking Premier would be well-advised to follow Mr. Baldwin and take to a pipe.

NOW IT turns out that short skirts, backless gowns and all the paraphernalia of modern fashion are not merely fashionable. They are the highest expression of scientific thought. If you doubt that, read what Sir Arbuthnot Lane, one of England's most distinguished medical men, has to say. "The first principle to lay down is that the best clothing is the least possible in the circumstances." In following which principle our modern woman has succeeded better than science dared to hope. In fact, Sir Arbuthnot can hardly contain his delight at the scientific tendencies of the other sex, for he says: "The best illustration of this principle (the principle of the less clothing the better) is to be seen in the clothing and health of the girl of to-day, for she has greatly reduced the amount of her clothing and immensely profited thereby." He would say, upon rare of a list of diseases which used to afflict her mother but cannot reach the modern woman, until you wonder how the race survived at all in the days of our youth.

OF MEN'S clothing Sir Arbuthnot despairs utterly. While women are improving their physique to undreamed-of perfection, men continue to ruin theirs, he says, by tight-fitting, sun-proof garments. Altogether it appears that woman, having long ago secured intellectual dominion over man, is not satisfied and intends to dominate him by physical force as well. If this can be accomplished by following the remarkable principle of the least possible clothing under the circumstances, I would say, on looking up down any busy street in this city, that woman is well on the way to her goal.

FOR MEN Sir Arbuthnot has some sound advice which, of course, he never expects to be followed: "What a man's clothing should be in the best exemplified by the uniform of the Boy Scout organization. It is loose and airy, yet warm where it should be; the shirt has an open neck and is not costly, but durable, comfortable and easily washed. The hat, when worn, is also comfortable, with a soft rim and a brim which keeps out the sun of sunlight, while the scout's legs are free from the tyranny of trousers."

NOW, THIS is not altogether remarkable in itself, but what is remarkable is that one of the greatest men of England actually followed Sir Arbuthnot's advice. He dressed in just such a costume as Sir Arbuthnot suggested and he went to see the Derby. I have this gentleman's photograph before me and it is mute evidence of a superb heroism in our time. Among the parade of fashion which annually afflicts the Derby this gentleman wore stockings to a point below the knees, shorts, and a shirt open at the throat, but there his scientific efforts stalled. His other garment was—what do you suppose?

KIRK'S WELLINGTON COAL

"Does Last Longer"

Of all things in the world it was a dinner jacket! Which just goes to prove how hopeless it is for men to try to keep up with women in the march of modern medical science. While enlightened woman is striding on to physical perfection by wearing the least possible clothes under the circumstances, and making the circumstances fit the clothes, poor misguided man staggers to his doom in a dinner coat.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, SR., celebrated his ninetieth birthday recently and in the account of this event there was a lesson for the rest of us who have neither this man's wealth nor his ninety years of life, and never expect to have either. On his birthday the oil king gave no elaborate party, invited no guests, did nothing outside his regular routine. Instead, he played his usual round of golf and then it is related he spent the afternoon driving about his great estate at Pocantico Hills in an old buckboard behind a spanking team of bays, which he prefers to an automobile. We find, therefore, that after ninety years of experience, and with money to buy everything the world has to offer, Mr. Rockefeller has come to the conclusion that the best things in life are the simple old-time pleasures which generation after generation were so inexpensive that all could enjoy them. Some of the rest of us have suspected this for a long time, but we have found in our modern civilization that simple, worth-while pleasures, like driving a buckboard, are too expensive for anyone but a multi-millionaire. The poor man has to endure the hardship of high-powered automobiles.

A CORRECTION

To the Editor:—I am very much obliged to you for giving me so much space for my letter on Campbell River power. Unfortunately the omission of a line of seven words in the last paragraph by a printer's error makes it appear that we wished to delay the development of Campbell River until after next election, which would be absurd.

My statement was: "If the Government is persuaded to believe that public sentiment on Vancouver Island is weak and divided on this question, it may dispose of Campbell River now and plan to establish a Public Utilities Commission before the next provincial election. In the circumstances, that might prove a very serious blunder. Our industries and the public must be protected as in other provinces, before the Campbell River sites are alienated."

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETING

To the Editor:—Since arriving home from the recent meeting of the Advisory Board of Farmers' Institutes my attention has been called to various statements in the Coast Cities reporting to give either reports of our meeting or commenting on it in a way to give the reader decidedly mistaken views of our aims and our business, and our relations to the Department of Agriculture and the Minister.

It has been stated we asked an open question on the subject of "peasants" were never so much as mentioned in our agenda.

It has been said Mr. Whitney-Griffiths received around $4,000 a year, an absolute misstatement of fact.

It has been said he was dismissed by the Minister, another of the same kind of misstatements. He has been dismissed him, but no member of that board would have desired the retirement of

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, July 16, 1904

It is estimated that it costs $25,000,000 to elect a President of the United States. The annual allowance which the British Parliament makes to King Edward is $1,925,000, or $7,700,000 in the four years. These comparative figures would seem to indicate that it is cheaper to maintain royalty permanently than to elect a President once in four years, says an exchange.

The date for receiving tenders for the foundations to the big C.P.R. hotel is being extended. According to the arrangements these were all to be in by Monday. A few slight alterations were made in the plans, so that it was decided to extend the period for receiving tenders a little.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Winds east to south, unsettled and cool with showers.

One of the longest passages to this port in many years was ended this morning by the arrival of the British ship Celtic Monarch, the overdue merchantman, which has been looked for here for several weeks.

a man each was willing to declare 100 per cent efficient on his job in their behalf, and acknowledged gladly by each of us to have been at least sixty per cent of the board. But the party of pleasure, why these misleading statements are printed is beyond my comprehension.

We requested a local veterinary inspector for the Kootenays, not for each district in the Province, as stated, and this motion was killed by one vote in the board.

In a report of an interview, I am said to have stated "legislation was routed by the Minister" in such a way as to prevent us making representations before the committee and as a result, nothing was done of consequence to the small farmers. The sense of my argument is misapprehended or possibly misconstrued. I am not aware of any outstanding proposals re "the small farmers" that needed representations last session, but my reference was to the effect of this as a general practice if continued.

I did refer to three matters sent to the committee by the late secretary on our instructions and by him left to be followed up by officials of the department when he left for England, and which they, in their faith in legislative committees, should be carried through without more pressure, but were not. A splendid example of faith in legislation which the board itself was cured of years ago, but I state this case to have been by the Department of Agriculture and not the Minister, as inferred by some. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and unless the Farmers' Institute can command a vigilance committee at the seat and season of legislation, we will be more noted for our social graces than for our accomplishment in behalf of British Columbia agriculture.

To clear the air I can candidly say that there was a very frank statement of our attitude towards that of the department as we understood it from various occurrences and reports during and since the December meeting, and an expressed hope that we were wrong in our interpretation of such.

We were gratified to find that the Minister and his officials were anxious of correcting our impression, and pleased to see on their part what we felt was a more intimate understanding of our functions and hopes than we felt to have been shown early in the year. When the Minister, through his deputy, made what each of us felt were cordial advances to set aside misunderstanding and asked that we lay our cards on the table, no member could refuse to meet him half-way, and we feel we are away to a new start on the basis of facts whose servants and mouthpiece we are. We assured the Minister that our board never was nor is now afraid to sponsor to the department any legislation that may be initiated on its representation. We did our best to convince him that we are conservative in our requests, and that we are independent of the faintest suggestion of governmental leading strings, and if so we could, as we have always wished, be of the greatest advantage and assistance to any department or government, regardless of politics, but only if we enjoy this independence; that we never have aspired to dictate, that we have originated legislation that the Government in power would have soft-pedaled on if we had been subservient, but which later proved so popular or valuable that the Government absorbed the prestige for it, to which we made no objection. The milk in the cocoanut was ours, let who needed it take the kudos for crating it.

We felt we made the Minister cognizant as never before of the value of our movement, its past accomplishments, its aims and the single-mindedness of every member of the board in following those aims, and we welcomed a statement from him that his department would be glad to do anything the board would recommend to end misunderstandings and facilitate our future functioning.

The board, I know, agree with me in the assurance that we will continue to carry on as our locals shall instruct, although personally I know the new secretary for lack of the personal energy, high qualifications and opportunity of residence of his predecessor, will be unable to give the same degree of efficiency to B. SMITH, Secretary Advisory Board of Farmers' Institutes.

POLLING TO-DAY IN CONSTITUENCY IN SASKATCHEWAN

Saskatoon, July 16.—In the far northern constituency of Ile la Crosse, one of the two deferred elections, polling is being held to-day.

When the provincial general election was held in June polling in both Ile la Crosse and Cumberland was deferred. The Cumberland election is scheduled for August 12.

There are two candidates in Ile la Crosse. A Jules Marion, who represented the riding in the last House, again is the Liberal nominee, and A. A. Book represents the Conservative Party.

The campaign concluded last night was one of the most intensive in the history of the constituency, and was participated in by both Hon. James G. Gardiner, Premier of Saskatchewan, and Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, leader of the Conservatives and allied opposition forces which will face the Liberal members when the Legislature meets in special session early in September.

In Cumberland two candidates have been nominated. D. Hall, member of the last House, is the Liberal, and is opposed by John Bede, an independent.

TWENTY MILES OF APARTMENT PROPERTY HERE

Zoning Regulations Attacked By Owners; Not Enough For Service Stations

Burnaby Would Abolish Police and School Boards as Separate Bodies

The Victoria zoning map has twenty street-miles of apartment class property and not enough space for service stations, James Porman told the City Council last night, appearing for the owner of Fort Street proper asking a change to garage use, to facilitate a sale. The council promised to consider the facts of the case.

The City was commended for its search for a more humane way of exterminating lost animals, and the council referred further plans to install a lethal chamber at the pound to Dr. R. E. Fenton, the new City Health Officer's report. The use of carbon dioxide from a gasoline motor's exhaust has been suggested as one possible method of providing painless extinction.

BURNABY WANTS ACTION The Corporation of Burnaby submitted resolutions in favor of a universal old age pension for Canadians at sixty-five years of age; and the amalgamation of police boards, school boards, and municipal councils in a joint board of control in each centre. The resolutions will be studied by committee for later report.

The council accepted an invitation to be present at the luncheon to be given by the Victoria Cold Storage Company at the new Ogden Point plant at 12:30 on the afternoon of August 6, when President H. G. Brown will welcome the City officials and others at an opening ceremony.

CLIENT FOR TIMBER To H. A. Beckwith, inquiring on behalf of a client, if the Sooke Lake watershed timber were for sale, the council will reply that no decision has yet been formed in that regard. Any decision to sell the timber would be widely advertised first, it was stated.

The City was invited to participate in a Health Week on an Empire-wide scale, details of which were furnished by a London, England, committee, and which will be further studied by the City, to see what action will be taken.

SAY WATER INADEQUATE The Victoria West Brotherhood renewed its protest against allegedly inadequate water reserves on the industrial area, in regard to fire fighting and other purposes. The water commissioner will report on the complaint at an early date.

The dumping of cordwood on a vacant lot at the corner of Belmont Avenue and Haultain Street was protested in a petition from twenty residents. The petitioners will be informed the City is already apprised of the facts, and is contemplating action. No tenders were received for the use of advertising space on the back of city water bills, in return for the costs of printing the bills. Water bills will be printed by the City, plain in future, unless the concession formerly held by Peden Bros. is taken up afresh.

The council was unanimous in its refusal to allow a tent to be used for gospel meetings within city fire limits. NO STREET EXTENSION

H. R. Ellis and others, petitioning for the extension of Vancouver Street through the three-block gap at its northern limits on Mason Street, will be told the City does not see its way clear to do the work at this time.

The city fire wardens were given charge of the entertainment of 600 visitors: fire chiefs, to be in Victoria on July 27-28, after the annual convention of the Pacific association to be held at Vancouver on July 24. Sinking funds investments were ratified as follows: Royal Financial Corporation, $5,500, to yield 5.39 per cent; A. E. Ames and Company, $1,000 at 5.25 per cent; Wood, Gundy and Company, $10,000, at 5.40 per cent; Canadian Bank of Commerce, $5,000, at 5.20 per cent.

REGRET CITY'S LOSS The council regretted by standing vote the death of the late Mark W. Graham, one of its representatives on the Jubilee Hospital Board, and left open the appointment of a successor. A letter of appreciation for able services will be handed by the council to Dr. Arthur G. Price, now retired from the city's services at his own request.

The council tabled the proposed sign by-law and minor amendments to the building by-law for two weeks. The streets traffic regulation measure was read in committee and slight alterations approved.

The council accepted invitations to be present at the city employees' picnic at Goldstream on July 20, and at the Old Men's Home on Wednesday, when open house will be held for the Wells Gray that he would not be in favor of using any of the insurance money, amounting to about $100,000, to finance temporary buildings. The committee also will consider the invitation from the Vancouver Exhibition directors to stage this year's New Westminster Fair there. It is possible a delegation will interview the Provincial Government to find out its attitude regarding a grant.

Vancouver, July 16.—Sympathy with New Westminster in the loss by fire of its exhibition buildings and a valuable industrial plant was voiced in a resolution passed by the Vancouver city council yesterday. VICTORIA MAN WED IN RUPERT

Mr. A. J. H. Wootton and Miss A. Dalby United at Pretty Ceremony

Prince Rupert, July 16—One of the outstanding marriages of the present summer in Prince Rupert was the wedding at 2:15 Thursday afternoon in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, Rev. J. B. Gibson officiating, of Miss Annie Dalby, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Dalby, 711 Fifth Avenue East, to Arthur John Homebrew Wootton, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wootton of Victoria.

The interesting ceremony was performed in the beautifully decorated cathedral before a large congregation of friends of the contracting couple, taking place on the steps of the cathedral, which was banked for the occasion with carnations and other flowers as well as with salal foliage, ferns and plants.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely wedding gown of white crepe satin with silk lace collar, embroidered with pearls, her embroidered veil having a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, carnations and lilies of the valley.

Two bridesmaids and a maid of honor attended the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss May Wootton of Victoria, sister of the groom, and Miss Edith Kelsey, who wore charming gowns of mauve tulle with large picture hats, trimmed with mauve. The maid of honor, Miss Evelyn Dalby, the bride's sister, wore a dainty frock of pink tulle with hat to match. All three attendants of the bride carried bouquets of pink carnations.

The groomsmen were James Herbert Dalby, brother of the bride, while ushers were Arthur Dalby, Stanley Dalby, Alex Rix and Robert Bartlett.

The service was fully choral. During the signing of the register a hymn was sung by the choir and the congregation.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the I.O.D.E. hall, which was tastefully decorated with pink and white drapery. The happy couple received the best wishes and congratulations of many invited friends under a large arch of pink bells and salal foliage. The bride was assisted in receiving by her mother, who wore a charming blue georgette gown. Assisting in serving refreshments were Misses Aileen Osborne, Winnie Tucker, Laura Fritzell and Myrtle Rose, as well as a number of young men friends.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. J. B. Gibson and responded to by the groom. The bride's father proposed the toast to the bridesmaids and the groomsmen responded. A. E. Bazzett-Jones also spoke eulogistically of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Wootton sailed later in the afternoon aboard the steamer Princess Louise for Victoria, where, after a brief honeymoon trip, they will make their home. Many friends gathered at the wharf to give the couple a hearty send-off. The bride's going-away ensemble consisted of a navy blue tulle crepe dress trimmed with grey, a navy blue coat with grey squirrel collar and a grey hat to match.

The bride has lived in Prince Rupert for many years and has become widely known and much esteemed. For years she has been identified with the firm of Wallace's department store and, a popular soloist, has long been active in the choir of St. Andrew's Cathedral. Mrs. Wootton is also well known in Prince Rupert, having at one time been a member of the staff of the Bank of Montreal here. Now, however, she is engaged in the nursery business near Victoria.

Girls to Camp At Toynbee's Bay

The Victoria District Canadian Girls Training camp, for girls fourteen to eighteen years of age, will be held from July 31 to August 10. Activities will include handicrafts, classes, dramatization, Bible study, team and group games, camp fire programmes, hikes and other features.

Girls wishing to attend the camp are asked to register with Mrs. Hammett, president of the Victoria C.G.T. Leaders' Council, phone 5434, or leave their names at the Y.W.C.A. as soon as possible. In order to enable the committee to complete arrangements at an early date.

It was decided unanimously to allow non-members to attend, on payment of a fee, the programmes of the Musical Club at the Victoria Club meeting which was held yesterday afternoon through the kindness of Mrs. Hermann, who loaned her home on Olive Drive, Oak Bay, for the occasion. It was also decided to form a junior section of the club. Following the meeting a pleasing programme was rendered by Mrs. Sidney M. Oliver, who contributed vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Wilby, Miss Dorothy Morton, a piano group, and Miss Rose Lee, violin solos, with Brian Burdon's "Phy" as accompaniment. Owing to a previous engagement, Miss Mackenzie was unable to attend. The guests of honor present were Mrs. R. S. Day, Mrs. J. C. Hinchey and Mrs. S. Macleure, past presidents of the club, and Mrs. A. Walsh and Mrs. Clarence Hord, honorary members. Ter was served in the garden.

Mrs. Grace and Mrs. Hardy, visitors to Victoria, were the guests of the ladies. There were seventy-five present and the collection amounted to $23.60.

Meeting Postponed—The monthly meeting of the Prayer Union for the Salvation of Israel will be postponed pending the visit of Mrs. Newberry of the Hebrew Christian Alliance, who is expected at the end of the month.

MRS. M. E. SMITH BACK IN CANADA

Returns on Liner Melita After Visit to England and European Countries

Montreal, July 16—Arriving half an hour after her big sister, the Duchess of York, the Canadian Pacific liner Melita docked here Saturday night from Glasgow and Belfast with a passenger list made up mostly of newcomers and visitors to the Dominion. The outstanding Canadian on the ship was the Hon. Mary Ellen Smith, British Columbia's first woman legislator, returning after a visit to England. Mrs. Smith, whose work both in the British Columbia Legislature and as a prominent women's club worker for equal legislative rights for both sexes is her outstanding achievement, told reporters that she was glad to be back in Canada. An interesting feature of the Melita's passenger list was that, apart from Mrs. Smith and two passengers en route to Hawaii, all the cabin passengers were from Scotland.

Wheelless Auto Tests Help Select Drivers

Rigid examinations are given all persons applying for licenses to drive automobiles in Berlin, and before permits are issued, candidates must pass the tests, which are intended to eliminate persons unfit to manage a car, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Included in the trials are a number of performances in a "dummy" automobile, simply a cab with all the controls and a mechanism whereby the candidate's rapidity of response to certain signals can be measured.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MRS. H. D. ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

MOTHERS SOMETIMES DEMAND THE IMPOSSIBLE OF CHILDREN

Mrs. H. D. writes: "I address you as friend for surely you are that to those of us who are floundering in the dark over child problems. I say three cheers for your non-panicking, low voiced admonitions and diplomacy in ruling a child. My husband is fond of the 'rod' theory, but I feel it is a horrible mistake."

This very morning my four and one-half year old was studying a magazine with horses in it. He protested when I offered to dress him. Now he will have to dress himself because mother is busy and can't dress big boys out of schedule. He will whine and weep but it will be a lesson.

I saw the letter of a mother whose little one does not talk at two years. Our boy was nearly three before he tried to talk. He has very good hearing, for my husband and I converse in low tones, he heard us; in fact, he seemed to have better hearing before he talked than now!

"He was given some gland extract, but I do not know whether this helped his speech or not. He walked at eleven months and said, 'Mama' one day and never said much after that. He could feed himself at thirteen months. At first he would fill the cereal all over, but when he got hungry he gobbled it up. He was past two before he was trained. I lashed him every day with a rubber hose, (yes, I know it was a criminal act), and suddenly one day he told me. I cried for joy and remorse when I thought of the whippings. He seems to be the same in talking: when we insist on his saying 'girl' instead of 'dairl,' he will say it."

He is about average in height and weight, tending toward thinness which he gets on both sides of the family. We are all healthy, though. He has been alone without other children to play with and has never been really sick, so I think that is a life saver in preventing illnesses."

ANSWER

I appreciate the friendly attitude mothers assume toward me. Your boy seems to have reacted in quite the normal manner to all of the situations he has encountered except in talking. I imagine he might have talked sooner had he played with other children. This is a great encouragement. It isn't to be expected that a child under two years will be able to recognize the imminence of wetting and notify the mother. It is quite true to punish him for something which is in advance of his development and thus attach such unpleasant experiences to toilet habits that it takes far longer to train him. The same is true of eating habits. Of course, he will stick his fingers in the cereal and drop it about in "clunk" and it is quite possible that the child begins to play instead of eat, and being more watchful to prevent such actions will soon end them. Every day the child will become more destined and able to manage the spoon and his food. In all things mothers are too prone to demand perfection when such a condition is the result of years of effort and training.

RETIRING BANKER HONORED BY STAFF

Mr. N. F. Ferris Presented With Address and Gold; Forty-one Years' Service

On his retirement from the Canadian Bank of Commerce, after forty-one years' service, Mr. N. F. Ferris, a senior member of the Government Street Branch, was presented yesterday afternoon with an illuminated address and a purse of gold from the members of the staff in the local branches of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. On behalf of the members, Mr. Hunter Gordon, acting manager, made the presentation, and in a few appropriate words conveyed to Mr. Ferris their hearty good wishes for the future and voiced regrets at his departure, for which Mr. Ferris expressed his appreciation.

Following the presentation, tea was served in the staff's room above the bank. Miss Macrae, Miss Richardson and Miss Stannard, presiding at the tea table. The guests included Mr. Ferris, members of the staff and their wives. The happy occasion was brought to a close with singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

ENJOYS HER BATH

One Mother, says: Little Patsy used to be so afraid of the water that it was a real chore to bathe her, instead of the delight I had when her brother Jack was a baby for he always loved bath time. One day I happened to pass a sporting goods store and in the window a gay array of colored bobbles which fishermen use on their lines. What a fine toy for Baby's bath! I went and bought a goodly amount of them. When I threw them into the bath the next day they floated around so gayly, baby was perfectly delighted with them and now bath time can't come soon enough for her.

The Place by Marion Leader

Diana Goes A-fishing

The men of the family are away fishing. Their rods and reels and caps and strange gear are at last carted out of the living rooms and we women can sit in our comfortable chairs and do our own fishing.

The goddess, Diana—doubtless she angled as well as hunted—never had the chance for such a thrill as we may now enjoy, fishing for the facts that can make life as full of thrills for women at home as for the men on the trout brooks.

We fish for facts every day in our newspapers and all through the world experts are driving the facts towards our nets and hooks. Theories will never manage a good home on a small income; will never clothe us in modern raiment, feed us in modern cleanliness and care, or transport us in modern chariots and speed.

Pick up your newspaper and enjoy a good fish. In the pool lie all the best things the world produces to-day. (Adv.)

NO GREEN GROCERIES SAILORS EAT LEMONS

Is made Compulsory Under Law Passed in England in 1868

In the year 1868 a law was passed in England to safeguard the health of sailors, which provided that every British ship should carry enough lime or lemon juice to furnish each member of the crew with an ounce a day. This made up for the lack of fresh fruits and vegetables which could not be carried on long ocean trips. It supplied certain vital food elements needed for good health.

At that time they did not know just what it was in the fruit juice—they did not know that it was the vitamins—that kept the sailors well. But they know today. Within this last generation scientists have been making a profound study of food and food values. And the truths they have discovered will have a far-reaching effect upon the welfare of the human race. These scientists, in their experiments, have found that the body, to be perfectly nourished, must receive, every day, a variety of vital elements in the proper proportions. These elements are supplied, some by one food, some by another. No one of Nature's foods supplies all of the necessary elements in proper proportion. Yet, to be fully, vigorously healthy the body must obtain them all.

The Necessary Elements

Vitamins bring to mind many foods with Nature's vivid colorings. There are the golden yellows of carrots, butter, yellow corn, rutabagas, sweet potatoes, cream, egg yolks, lemons and oranges; the rich

"32 Times, Please, Mr. Patient"

Speaking last week at a meeting of a local health-promotion club, a well-known authority pointed out that all too many people fail to realize the relation chewing bears to the health and beauty of the teeth and gums, and to the well-being of the whole body. He heartily applauded dentists in their recommendations to their patients to eat plenty of foods which require chewing. One of such "chewy" foods is the delicious, nourishing cereal, Grape-Nuts.

believes to be really "good" for him. And that is just the point! Food can be "good" for a person, in a certain limited sense, and yet be lacking in many of the all-important elements of nutrition. In prosperous homes, bountifully supplied with good things to eat, there are thousands of anemic, under-nourished men, women and children. They have enough to eat; their food is well cooked, palatable, easily digested—but it does not supply, in sufficient quantities and in correct proportion, all the essential food elements.

Grape-Nuts, a delicious food which is served for breakfast with milk or cream, was deliberately designed to overcome this condition. Grape-Nuts is a wonderful food originated by an expert—a food deliberately and scientifically planned to supply elements often lacking in the average diet. Its crisp, delicious kernels are made up of two healthful, golden grains—whole wheat and malted barley. By special processes of preparation, the goodness of the original grains is retained, the delicate, nut-like flavor is fully brought out and the food is rendered easily digestible.

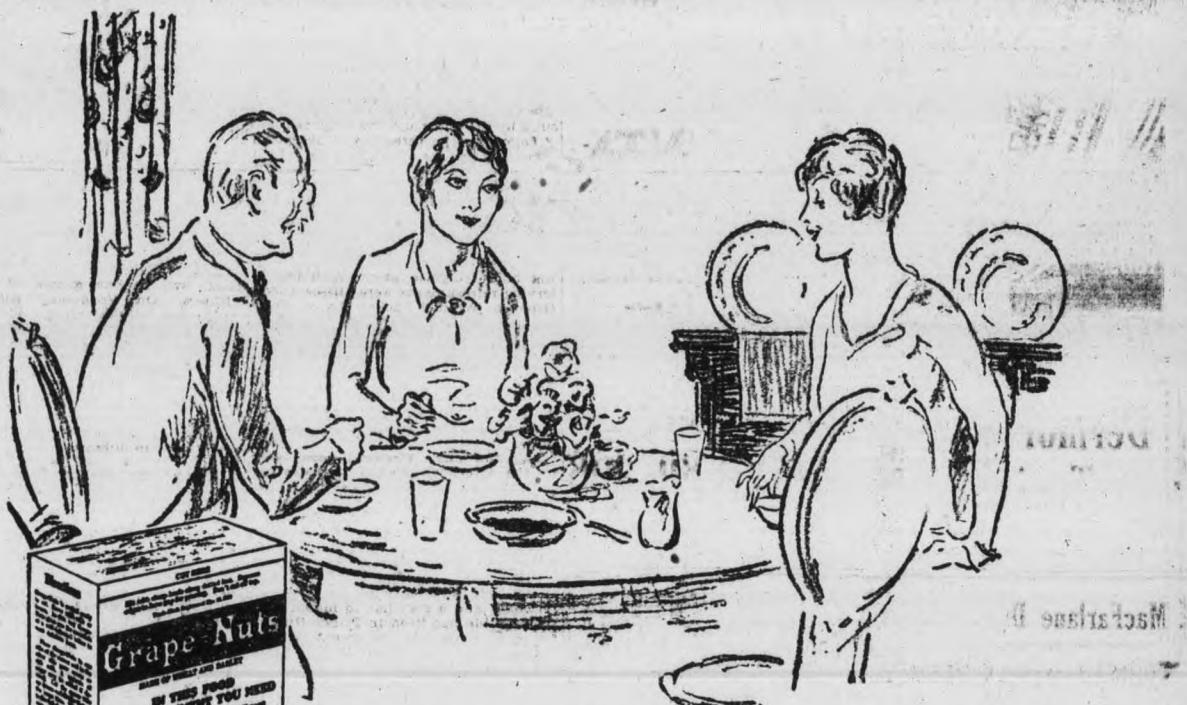

Grape-Nuts contributes to the body dextrins, maltose and other carbohydrates which produce energy. It contributes iron for the blood; phosphorus for teeth and bones; protein for muscle and body-building. In addition, it supplies the essential vitamin-B. Grape-Nuts, eaten with milk or cream, is a splendid combination to aid health and growth.

And Grape-Nuts has yet another important virtue—crispness. The enjoyable chewing of its firm golden kernels gives healthful exercise to teeth and gums and stimulates the secretion of the juices of digestion.

BEAUTY SECRET EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW

Woman after woman pins her hope of beauty on treatments that come from the beauty parlour. She fails to realize the full import of that old saying that "Beauty comes from within". She fails to realize that her body must be right, her health must be right, before she can hope for beautiful hair, beautiful teeth, a fresh wholesome complexion, and all the other attributes of beauty.

Provided there is nothing organically wrong with her, a woman should seek beauty by getting plenty of exercises and fresh air and eating the right food. She should eat food which supplies the proper, balanced nourishment Nature demands. The delicious food Grape-Nuts supplies five of these precious elements.

Breakfast-Time Messenger of Joy!

FROM Canada, around the world, stretches the popularity of Grape-Nuts for delightful breakfasts—for supremely healthful breakfasts.

Millions enjoy it every morning—have for thirty years. Grape-Nuts was the first cooked breakfast food ever offered in packages. To-day it is sold in more countries than any other packaged breakfast food.

It's easy to understand the year-in-year-out popularity of Grape-Nuts. It's literally a breakfast-time messenger of joy! Unbelievably good to eat. Supplying five of the vital elements of nutrition needed for a happy body. Easily digested. Crisp—to give healthful exercise to teeth and gums through enjoyable chewing. And one of the least expensive foods there is—costing less than one cent a serving.

Your grocer sells Grape-Nuts—in wax-wrapped packages. It's ready to eat with milk or cream.

Mail Order Houses Seen In Price War, Prepaying Charges

Chicago, July 16—A big mail order price war is seen in the move to-day of Sears-Roebuck, which announced that effective immediately Sears will prepay freight charges on merchandise sent to customers in all parts of the country.

The announcement follows that made a few days by Montgomery Ward, offering all catalogue goods delivered free by mail.

Sears-Roebuck state that the company decided last January that it would prepay parcel post charges effective with the issuance of its spring and summer catalogue. Since then all other large mail order houses have followed suit and adopted postage-prepayment. The statement says that customers' appreciation of the Sears postage prepayment plan is evidenced by increased sales.

The absorption by Sears of all carrying charges on mail order merchandise was made possible by the establishment of mail order plants in ten commercial key cities of the country.

Canadian Marksmen Shoot Well in St. George's Match

THE SPORTS MIRROR

HATS off to Percy Williams! That incomparable Vancouver athlete has ably demonstrated his right to be called "the world's fastest human." Last week-end in Vancouver calm and collected Percy competed against the best sprinters in the United States and ran them into submission.

George Simpson of Ohio State University, who is claiming a world's record for the 100 yards, was not present, but must not be forgotten that Eddie Tolon, who finished second to Williams, has beaten Simpson in six out of seven starts. Enough said. And do not forget Simpson had to have starting blocks to aid him in winning. Perhaps if Williams used blocks he would run the century in nine and two-fifths seconds.

Williams, who brought fame to Canada by his two victories at the last Olympic games is now sitting back on his throne. He is a most fitting "King of the world's sprints." There was a lot of talk in the United States that Tolon would beat Williams, but the Quaky runner was forced to take the dust from Williams' heels.

Another angle regarding Williams' victory that will interest the local athletic world is that in the final heat in which Williams beat Tolon and Frank Wykoff his time was clicked as nine and four-fifths seconds. This is just one-tenth of a second faster than the time made by Percy Williams in the recent athletic meet staged at Tacoma. Not so bad.

New Westminster Royals, former Dominion football champions, will have to take a back seat now as far as the Connaught Cup series is concerned. On Saturday the Royals were beaten 5-3 by St. Saviour's in the replay of their Connaught Cup match. St. Saviour's won the first game 2-1, but the Royals protested and the match was ordered replayed. The Salmonbellies must accept the verdict this time. The Saints are their masters.

Uncle Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, made a rather bold statement some months ago that in "Dazzy" Vance and "Babe" Ruth he had two of the best pitchers in baseball.

Those were eight precious victories for the Robins, as they cost in the neighborhood of $2,315 each, which is big money even in Brooklyn.

Competitors in C. C. Pyle's recent transcontinental union derby are now taking part in a six-day nonstop race at Los Angeles. The race is being staged under the supervision of Jim Thorpe, famous Indian athlete.

We are wondering whether or not the "bumblers" are attempting to raise enough cash to provide themselves with railroad fare to return to their homes. To date Mr. Pyle has not come through with the prize money for his derby.

Well, he is still decorating the canvas, anyway.

The umpiring in the American League hasn't been so wonderful this year, according to the managers. In Cleveland the other day the plate umpire called a line fair, and the third base umpire waved it foul. President Barnard ought to recruit a staff from the survivors' association.

In the Central League the other day, they had to haul away a couple of the "umps" in a police patrol.

Rudy May, Ogden, Utah, pulled a fast one the other day. Playing in the recent International amateur invitational golf tournament Thomsen for the qualifying medal award. At the final hole, Thomsen laid his tee shot two inches from the cup and appeared a certain winner. Maus needed a hole-in-one to tie his rival for the prize. Maus' iron shot from the tee, 133 yards away, went straight into the cup and stayed there, tying the match. In the play-off Maus won.

Since the Poughkeepsie regatta there has been considerable complaint about the manner in which the race was handled by the radio broadcasters. Several have suggested that experienced newspaper reporters be placed at the microphone for the future. Oddly enough a large number of people think that newspapers are never right.

Able Davies, promising young local bantamweight, after a long lay-off, returned to the ring Saturday night, to beat Eddie Graham of Portland. Davies looks like a comer, but he will have to make a few trips to the United States if he wants to build up a good "rep."

Word comes from California that Tommy Fortune, junior lightweight, who left Victoria some weeks ago, is getting along nicely. He has engaged in a number of bouts, and according to reports is going over big.

KENNEDY TO STROKE NEW SENIOR FOUR

Veteran Member of J.B.A.A. "Big Four" to Row in Feature at N.P.A.A.O. Meet

Crane to Race in Junior Singles; Boys in Good Shape For Regatta This Week

Bill Kennedy, veteran stroke of the J.B.A.A.'s "Big Four," has returned to town in time to get into condition for the N.P.A.A.O. regatta at Esquimalt next Friday and Saturday, and will lead a reorganized senior four against the crack Vancouver and Portland crews in the feature race on Saturday.

Dan Moses will row two, Brian Hunnings three and Ray Ditchburn bow in the boat, which should prove a big factor in the event.

Hunnings and Ditchburn will also row in the same positions in the junior four, with Bert Willis stroking the crew and Al Wright rowing two.

With only three days left before the opening day, local oarsmen are tapering off for the regatta with light workouts at the club course and practice starts. All heavy rowing has been finished and the boys are in good shape for the meet.

A good orchestra will be in attendance and everything points to a successful function.

Summer School Tennis Tourney To Open Monday

Scores of students at the Summer School are practicing on the school courts at the Victoria High School in preparation for the annual tennis tournament to start there at the beginning of next week. Although entries for the different classes do not close until Thursday, already many have registered for play in different divisions and are spending their spare time on the courts in preparation for the matches.

Men's singles and doubles, ladies' singles and doubles and mixed doubles will be played.

The tournament is expected to last for two weeks, and should provide plenty of good tennis for those who visit the courts.

The school sports, including running and jumping events, will be held at the Summer School picnic at Deep Cove on July 27.

Bill Tilden And Hunter Arrive For Big Series

Berlin, July 16.—William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter, United States tennis stars, arrived announced this morning from Paris and went directly to a hotel. They said they would begin training immediately for the Davis Cup international final between the United States and Germany, which is scheduled to being here Friday.

John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, younger members of the United States team, are expected to arrive Wednesday.

BELCHER'S HOME RUN WINS GAME

Clouts Ball Over Fence to Give Jokers 5-4 Win Over Tilliums in Close Game

Jokers Now Tied With Clubmen For League Lead; Lidstone Pitches Good Game

Claude Belcher's home run over the centre field fence in the sixth inning with Jimmy D'Arcy resting on second base gave the Jokers a 5-4 victory over the Tilliums in the Senior Amateur League ball game at the Royal Athletic Park last night. The game, one of the best seen in the park this season, was productive of fast, snappy baseball. The Jokers by their win tied up the league race, they now being on even terms with the Tilliums for the league leadership, both teams having won six and lost four games.

Vincing oarsmen are expected to arrive here to-morrow or Thursday and will probably hold a light workout over the regatta course.

In order to distinguish the different boats as they come down the stretch, all competitors will wear distinctive jerseys. The J.B.A.A. will carry the navy-blue and white colors; Vancouver, scarlet and white; Portland, dark blue, light blue and white; and Brentwood, black and white.

LACROSSE TITLE SERIES TO OPEN

Oaklands and South Park to Start Championship Series To-night

The curtain will rise on the city lacrosse championship series to-night when Oaklands and South Park squads cross sticks at the Royal Athletic Park. The series will consist of five games, the winner of three being adjudged title holder. The champions will journey to Vancouver to meet the winners of the Senior "B" league there.

Apert from the newly-arranged series in this city, arrangements are under way to play a number of games against Seattle teams. Leonard Tait, president of the local league stated this morning. Plans are being made to take a local squad to Seattle on August 17 to meet a Sound City team in an exhibition game during the Sounddoughs' Convention in that city. Later in the summer, the same teams are expected to clash in an exhibition at Nanaimo.

TO LOAN NO PLAYERS

No players will be loaned to teams in the championship series here, it was announced by the president. This ruling came as an outcome of the match last week, in which Oaklands borrowed two men from South Park and then defeated the team which had completed its squad.

Should any club go on to the field minus players, it will have to play with a short team or else lose the game by default.

Keen competition is expected between the teams that meet at the park at 8:30 o'clock. Both have been working out steadily during the summer and should be in good shape for the match.

Frank Smith, an old-timer at the game, will handle the whistle. The South Park will line-up as follows: C. Bissell, D. Bissell, Bradley, Bobby Sheret, Len Bryant, Hardy, Gil Margison, Clark, Bill Plater (captain), Lloyd Cann and Eric Eart.

St. Saviour's Will Represent Province In Connaught Cup

Vancouver, July 16.—St. Saviour's will represent British Columbia in the playoffs for the Connaught Cup, emblematic of the Canadian soccer championship, by virtue of defeating a weakening North Shore eleven, 1 to 0, at Con Jones Park last night.

ENGLAND PRESSED TO WIN THIRD CRICKET TEST MATCH

Leeds, Eng., July 16.—After a tense struggle in which the fortunes of both teams fluctuated from bad to good, England won the third cricket test match from South Africa to-day by five wickets. Apparently in a hopeless position yesterday South Africa made a fine bid for victory to-day, aided by H. G. Owen Smith's 129. Things looked serious for England at lunch time to-day when the side had lost two of its best batsmen and was still 163 behind.

The middle section of the team played steadily and pulled the game around.

The test match series is now: England won one, drew two, to play two.

Scores in the third match: South Africa 236 and 275, aggregate 511; England 328 and 186 for five wickets, aggregate 514.

Tommy Loughran Two to One Favorite to Retain Title in Thursday's Bout

Light-heavyweight Champion Expected to Win by Decision Over Heavy-hitting Braddock; Challenger, Who Packs Dynamite in His Right, Will Have to Pierce Great Guard of Loughran; Giant Argentine to Meet Arthur de Kuh.

New York, July 16.—James J. Braddock's attempt to lift the light-heavyweight crown off Tommy Loughran's brow this week furnishes metropolitan followers of the fistie industry with their first real championship bout since last September when Andre Routs beat Tony Canzoneri for the featherweight title.

The battle of the left jab and straight right, Loughran and Braddock is set for fifteen rounds at the Yankee Stadium on Thursday night. The advance dope favors Loughran to outpoint the challenger, current odds being around 2 to 1. Braddock, however, packs enough dynamite in his right arm to laugh at odds. If he can pierce Loughran's guard, and that is not easy, there will be a new light-heavyweight champion.

Braddock, who hails from Jersey City, sprang into the limelight last year with a two-round knockout over Tuffy Griffith. After dropping a decision to Leo Lomaki, the Jersey City puncher came back with victory on a technical knockout over Jimmy Slattery, the Buffalo speedster.

BRADDOCK CAN HIT

There is no questioning that Braddock will hurt anyone he hits. The question is whether he can hit a Loughran who has waded through all challengers since he captured the title from Mike McGuire in October of 1927.

Rene de Voer, Belgian middleweight, and Dave Shale, California veteran, are to meet in the semi-final, and Harry Ebbets, Preempt slugger, matches punches with Izzy Groze, East side middleweight, in another ten rounds.

GIANT IS MATCHED

Humbert Fugazy has arranged a card at Ebbsfield Field Wednesday night that may take some of the bloom off the Yankee Stadium affair. He has matched Victorio Campolo, six feet seven and one-half inch Argentine puncher, with Arthur de Kuh, big Italian, in the feature bout of ten rounds.

Campolo is a slinger after the type of Luis Firpo. He was knocked out by Monte Munoz at Buenos Ayres, but

Blair, Of Vancouver Is Second Best In Feature Competition

Hangs Up Total of 67, One Behind Leader, to Tie With Navy Shot for Second Position in Qualifying Stage of One of Greatest Individual Events at Bisley Meet; Whole Canadian Team Shows Improvement; Sgt. J. H. Regan of Victoria Has Score of 63.

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 16.—With the total of 68 out of 70, Sergeant G. W. Bowns of the Tenth Middlesex Regiment, led all competitors in the qualifying stage of the St. George's challenge vase to-day, one of the greatest individual events of the National Rifle Association's meeting.

The Canadians shot better in this event than they have done since the meeting opened ten days ago. Lieut.-Col. R. M. Blair of Vancouver totaled 67 to tie for second place honors with the English marksman, Petty Officer Fleetwood of H.M.S. Pembroke, and the veteran Sergeant A. G. Fulton, formerly of the Queen's Westminsters.

The hundred competitors with the highest scores in the qualifying stages will fire in the second stage at 600 yards Saturday morning.

CANADIAN SCORES POSSIBLE

The best individual Canadian score was that of Sgt. H. Rusk of Ottawa at the 300-yard distance, where he fired a possible of 35.

Lieut.-Col. Blair had 34. At the longer range the 33's of Lieut.-Col. Blair and Sgt. C. W. Foam, Montreal, were the best Canadian scores.

The other Canadian scores follow: Lieut.-Col. Skinner, formerly of Fort William, 64; Sgt. J. H. Regan, Victoria, 63; Lieut. D. Fyvie, Victoria, 60.

One Time When Congratulations Not Wanted

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 16.—Premature congratulations destroyed the chance of Mrs. Hallett, Jersey markswoman, of bringing distinction to the very few women competitors in the present meeting of the National Rifle Association. Firing in The Daily Telegraph event at 600 yards yesterday, Mrs. Hallett scored five successive bullseyes. A misheard acquaintance once back of the firing line called out "you have won the cup." The flustered markswoman dropped her sixth shot to get a magpie (three points) and then shot to the inner for four points. This gave her a total of 32 out of 35.

The semi-final, another international bout, also went to Canada when Billy Ayerton of Winnipeg added to his laurels as a first class bantamweight by scoring an easy six-round victory over Frisco Grande, Buffalo. Ayerton won every round but the first, which was even. Ayerton weighed 117½ and Grande 117¼.

George Fildfield of Toronto had to work hard for the verdict over Jack Joseph, a recent arrival from Wales, who re-entered the ring after an absence of six months. Fildfield weighed 166 and Joseph 147.

ROCCO WINS IN COMEBACK

Toronto Flyweight Hands Phil Tobias Licking; Winnipeg Boy Winner

Coliseum, Toronto, July 16.—Steve Rocco of Toronto made an auspicious start in his comeback by knocking out Canadian flyweight title last night when he administered a beating to Phil Tobias of New York in a ten-round bout. Rocco weighed 112½ pounds and Tobias 112¼.

The semi-final, another international bout, also went to Canada when Billy Ayerton of Winnipeg added to his laurels as a first class bantamweight by scoring an easy six-round victory over Frisco Grande, Buffalo. Ayerton won every round but the first, which was even. Ayerton weighed 117½ and Grande 117¼.

George Fildfield of Toronto had to work hard for the verdict over Jack Joseph, a recent arrival from Wales, who re-entered the ring after an absence of six months. Fildfield weighed 166 and Joseph 147.

Two defeats were wiped out Saturday by the stout-hearted son of Black Servant. Clyde Van Dusen, leader of the Kentucky Derby, in which Blue Larkspur was fourth—the only title he finished outside of the money this season—was third. Grey Coat, which defeated Blue Larkspur's claim to the championship, by losing him out in the Dwyer Stakes, was seventh in the classic.

TAKES THE LEAD

At the same time he demonstrated his supremacy over Clyde Van Dusen, Windy City, Dr. Freedland, Rose of Sharon and nine other of the best three-year-olds in training, in the Arlington Park feature. Blue Larkspur took the championship lead in the Midsummer Derby at Saratoga, the Hawthorne Golf Cup, Lincoln Handicap and the Gold Cup at Belmont.

THE BIG SIX

There was a general downward trend in the Big Six betting averages yesterday with two notable exceptions. Babe Ruth went to bat five times against Detroit and got three hits, including this twentieth home run of the year, for an increase of five points. His mark now stands at 325.45. He is four of four against St. Louis for a rise from 326 to 328. All the others lost ground.

THE STANDING

Home runs yesterday—Klein, Philadelphia, 3; Wilson, Cubs, 1; Heathcote, Cubs, 1; Frederick, Robins, 1; Bressler, Robins, 1; Douthitt, Cardinals, 1; Ruth, Yankees, 1; Averill, Indians, 1. League totals—League leaders—Gehrig, American League, 22; Simmons, Athletics, 21; Ruth, Yankees, 20; Fox, Athletics, 17; Alexander, Tigers, 14. National League leaders—Klein, Phillies, 26; Ott, Giants, 15; Heathcote, Cubs, 23; Bottomley, Cardinals, 22. League totals—National, 469; American, 341. Grand total, 810.

Collapse of Cardinals May Make Baseball History

CRACKING OF VETERAN PITCHING STAFF HAS SHATTERED CHAMPIONS

In Short Space of Month St. Louis Has Dropped From Position as Leading Contender Into Fight to Remain Out of Second Division in National League; Chicago Cubs Gain on Pittsburgh by Downings Philadelphia in Double-header; Klein Hits Three Home Runs and Takes Lead.

Here and there on the pages of baseball history are recorded the dramatic collapse of powerful baseball machines, but the fall of the St. Louis Cardinals, National League champions in 1928, threatens to go down in the books as one of the strangest and most unexpected of all form reversals.

For two months the Cards were in the thick of the pennant chase. Then they fell apart. There have been a number of explanations for the collapse of the champions but most of the responsibility can be traced back to a veteran pitching staff that cracked wide open at a time when Billy Southworth had no up and coming youngsters capable of stepping into the breach.

On June 14 of the current campaign the Cards had compiled a record of 34 victories and 19 losses, a percentage of .650. Since that date the Cards have lost 23 games and won only six for a season's record of 40 victories and 42 defeats, a percentage of less than .500.

Battle to Keep In First Division

Thus in the short space of a month the Cards have dropped from a position as the leading contender for the championship into a dogfight with Brooklyn to stay out of the second division.

Southworth's crew lost ground to the Dodgers yesterday, bowing to the New York Giants 7-2, while the Robins were turning back the Cincinnati Reds 4-2. This left the Robins only a game and a half out of the first division. The Giants pounded Wes Willie Sherdel for thirteen hits, ten of them coming in two innings for all seven runs. Jack Scott held the Cards safe all the way.

William Watson Clark gave the Reds only four hits at Brooklyn and breezed through to an easy victory. Ray Kolp was touched for only eight hits but home runs by Frederick and Bressler and doubles by Moore, Frederick and Bissonette, enabled the Robins to fashion four runs out of the collision. The second place Chicago Cubs saved a half-game off Pittsburgh's lead by downing the Phillies in both ends of a double bill, 9-6 and 7-6. Chuck Klein hit his twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth homers during the double bill to assume major league leadership in this department.

Hack Wilson got his twenty-third homer in the first game. An error by George Sisler enabled the Pirates to beat the Boston Braves 5-4 in eleven innings and stretch their winning streak to eight in a row. Comoros scored the winning run when Sisler muffed Clark's fly back of first base. The victory left the Pirates leading the Cubs by two and a half games.

Yankees Gain Half Game on Athletics

The New York Yankees picked up half a game on the Philadelphia Athletics by beating Detroit 7-6, while the A's were splitting a double-header with Cleveland.

Babe Ruth's twentieth homer of the year in the ninth gave the Yankees their win at Detroit. Sloppy fielding spoiled Roy Sherid's debut as a starter.

Two Records Set Up in To-day's Cricket Match

Leeds, Eng., July 16.—Two records were set up in the course of play in the Anglo-South African cricket test match here to-day.

H. G. Owen Smith, with his 120, put up a new individual score record for a South African player against England. Smith takes this honor away from R. H. Catterall, who made 120 on two occasions. Smith, with Bell, set new high figures for a tenth wicket stand, getting 103. The previous best innings for a tenth-wicket in an Anglo-South African match were played by Sherwell and Vogler, at Cape-town, in 1908, when 94 runs were compiled.

Smith to-day also scored his first century in first class cricket.

FAVORITES EXPERIENCE GALA DAY

Seeded Players Come Through in Great Fashion in Junior Tennis Play

Leney and Lundie Defeat Forbes and Sheret in Exciting Match, 6-2, 8-10, 6-1

Favorites had a big day yesterday in the opening round of the British Columbia Junior lawn tennis championships now in progress on the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. No startling upsets were seen, although the brand of tennis witnessed was of the best, and some brilliant play is looked for before the champions are decided to-morrow.

Ideal weather conditions existed, and all the matches were run-off in fine style.

The most exciting match of yesterday's play was the boys' doubles between Eric Leney and S. Lundie of Duncan and Tommy Forbes and B. Sheret. After winning the first set Leney and Lundie went into a slump and their opponents were able to pull the set out, 10-8. Leney and Lundie, however, had the ability and won the third set, 6-1.

Bradford showed real class when he came from behind to win from T. Lundel. Lundel won the first set 9-7, but from then on Bradford seemed to have the upper hand, his passing shots at the net were particularly brilliant.

PLAYING STRONG GAME

In the girls' events, under 15 and 16, Eleanor Young of Vancouver is playing a strong game, and should go a long way in both doubles.

In the under 18 girls' events all the seeded players came through in easy style, and the semi-finals and finals should produce some sensational tennis.

Yesterday's results follow:

Boys' Singles, Under Eighteen
George Yoshi, Vancouver, defeated I. Redmayne, 6-1, 6-3.

S. Compton Lundie defeated Maurice Young, 6-3, 6-1.

Another German Marathoner—By Jimmy Thompson

ADOLPH DORR
THE NEW GERMAN MENACE IN THE 15 MILE C.N.E. MARATHON SWIM THIS YEAR

Although the famous Wrigley Marathon is not to take place for another two months, swimmers from all over the world are coming to Toronto and beginning their training grinds.

One of the most interesting of the new arrivals is Adolf Dorr, formerly of Coblenz, Germany, and more recently of Hollywood, Los Angeles, Eureka and Vancouver. He is a mild mannered, aesthetically appearing man and reminds one more of a piano virtuoso than a marathon swimmer. He wears golf breeches and his shirt is open at the front, and as the saying goes, he grows his own Stetson. He says that he has navigated some twenty-five miles of the river Rhine, and expects to be in the fight for the 50,000 berries.

Dorr will use a combination style of breast and dorsal strokes, in other words, just plain swimming on his back.

HOMELESS HAWKS TO PLAY IN COLISEUM THIS SEASON

Chicago, July 16.—The Chicago Black Hawks, the orphans of the National Hockey League last season, will have a home next winter.

Major Frederick McLaughlin, owner of the club, and C. R. Hall, president of the Coliseum Building Corporation, yesterday reached an agreement under which the Black Hawks will play twenty-two games in the Coliseum between November 21 and March 18. An option for additional dates, depending on whether the team reaches the playoffs, was obtained by Major McLaughlin.

The Black Hawks became homeless last season when the Coliseum was required for other purposes, and finished their schedule on the road.

RUNNERS SET A SLOW PACE

Johnny Salo and Sam Richman Leading in 144-Hour Race at Los Angeles

Los Angeles, July 16.—Running fourteen miles ahead of the second place team, but setting a pace too slow to eclipse the twenty-five-year-old record they seek to shatter, Johnny Salo, Fassel, N.J., policeman, and Richman of New York, had covered 259 miles after 55 1/2 hours had elapsed in their proposed 144-hour race at 6.30 a.m. to-day.

Nine two-man teams set out at 11 p.m. Saturday to break the record for six days' running set at New Orleans by two Frenchmen at 723 miles. Six teams remained in the race as the bunion artists reeled off the miles toward their fourth day.

In second place ran Harry Abramowitz and Roy McMurtry, while George Reahay and Niel Nielson clung to third with 243 miles behind them. Charlie Hart, sixty-five-year-old Englishman, and L. Jensen were in fourth place after covering 223 miles.

Extreme warm weather was held responsible in a degree for the slow pace.

Two runs in the twelfth inning gave Victoria West, winners of the second half of the Westholme Softball League, a 5-3 victory over Marigold, first half winners, at Victoria West Park last night in the first game of league play-off.

From start to finish the game proved a ding-dong battle. Marigold brought two runners home in the first inning, but the Wests evened the count in their half of the same frame. Marigold took a one-run lead in the second and held it until the end of the ninth, when the Wests scraped in another tally to tie the score.

After battling through two more scoreless innings, Wagland and Burnett crossed the home plate in the last of the third extra frame to give the Wests a close victory.

The teams will meet in the second game of the series to-morrow night at 6.30 o'clock on the same grounds. Jack Pascoe and Laurie Wooster will act as referees.

Short score follows:
Batteries—Thomas and Tillyer; Jones and Banks.

PROVINCE WINS
With a game apiece to their credit, Eureka, last year's winners of the "C" section City Softball League, and The Daily Province, winners of the second half of this year's league, will clash at Central Park to-morrow night. Last night The Province handed the Eureka a 12-10 defeat to remain in the running for league honors.

From the beginning the play saw-sawed between the two teams until the sixth, when Stan Moore, pitching for Eureka, blew up and gave his opponents five runs. Parkington replaced him, but was nicked for three more tallies before the game ended.

Laurie Clark, on the mound for The Province, turned in a good game, but was given shaky support by his teammates.

H.M.C.S. Vancouver almost doubled the score on the Y.M.I. to maintain their place in the running for "B" class honors.

The final count was 11-6 for the tars. TO-NIGHT'S GAMES
Hillcrest vs. Johnson Brothers, at Work Point Barracks. Umpire, Bob Whyte.
Foresters vs. Saanich "A", at Victoria West Park. Umpire, Frank Youson.

The best of golfers have their off days. In Birmingham Walter Hagen missed a one-yard putt on the first hole, but he sank a ten-footer on the second.

Victoria rinks met tough sailing in the first day's play of the British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association's seventh annual tournament yesterday.

Only one of the Island rinks remained in the Malin rink event, that of E. D. Sherwood, while none of the Islanders survived in the Spencer rink event.

Sherwood defeated J. Lyon, of Revelstoke, 19-5, in the Malin event, and then went on to win from R. Black, of the Terminal Club, Vancouver, 16-15, in his second match.

R. McLaren, Calgary, defeated J. Reid, of Burnaby, 15-14, in the first round of the Malin event, but lost to J. Bell, Kerrisdale, 17-11, in the second round.

The H. M. Wright rink, Victoria, proved the most consistent winner of the Island teams, coming through with two victories in the Spencer event before being defeated in the fourth round.

HATED TO EAT BECAUSE OF STOMACH DISTRESS

If you can't eat, you can't keep up your strength, can't work, can't think, can't get any enjoyment out of life. In other words, you are in a dangerous condition; just ready to be attacked by some serious illness which you are not strong enough to resist. You are probably in the same distressing state that Mr. Frank Sprague, 110 Cathedral Avenue, Winnipeg, was in when Tanlac came to his rescue.

"I had an attack of grippe," he writes, "which left me weak and thin. I lost my appetite and what little food I ate caused such indigestion pains that I just hated to eat. I went to work, but seemed to have no strength and energy, and felt miserable and dependent. I took only three bottles of Tanlac, and now I am enjoying the best of health. Tanlac came to my rescue just in time and it did so much for me that I want to praise it all the time."

Tanlac relieves pain, gas, nausea, dizziness caused by indigestion—corrects constipation, brings back sleep and appetite—puts you on your feet again. The cost is less than 2c a dose—less than 6c a day to be well.

Tanlac brings back appetite; helps you digest your food, gain in strength, increase in weight. Made of roots, barks and herbs—nature's own medicine for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist to-day; your money back if it doesn't help you.

FINE DISPLAY OF FLOWERS BY NORTH SAANICH

Hon. R. R. Bruce Opened Notable Exhibition at Saanichton Hall Yesterday

Hon. S. F. Tolmie Invites Florists to Provide Bulbs For British Parks

Hon. R. R. Bruce yesterday afternoon opened the annual exhibition of summer flowers of the North Saanich Horticultural Society, held at the Saanichton Agricultural Hall.

The Lieutenant-Governor was enthusiastic in praise of the display, commenting in his address upon the great advance shown over last year. The show opened at 2 o'clock and a large attendance viewed the exhibits, which were sold by auction at the close of the evening.

Premier S. F. Tolmie, introduced by L. E. Taylor, president of the society, announced that arrangements have been made, through the good offices of Sir William Clarke, British Trade Commissioner at Ottawa, and the Empire Marketing Board, for planting exhibition display beds of British Columbia-grown bulbs in the parks of London and the larger cities of England. The Provincial Government was prepared to pay the cost of packing and transportation of bulbs contributed by the growers for advertising purposes.

Following the addresses bouquets were presented to Mrs. Mackenzie, to little Katleen Hammond and to Mrs. Tolmie by Eileen Mackenzie.

DANCE PROGRAMME
During the afternoon an exhibition of dancing was given by pupils of Mrs. Clough, including Christine Schmelz, Irene and Vera Holmes, Dorothy Peacock, Bernice Lefley and Irene Mitchell. Miss Clough was presented with a bouquet by Kathleen Hammond.

Among the striking non-competitive exhibits were sweet peas shown by Crossland Brothers, perennials displayed by C. E. McTavish and a collection of lilies shown by L. E. Taylor. Afternoon tea was served by a committee headed by Mrs. J. J. White and Mrs. Wilkinson.

C.N. FREIGHTER HAS BIG CARGO

Canadian Ranger in Montreal From B.C. With Huge Spar For Toronto Exhibition

Montreal, July 16.—Carrying on her deck what is said to be the tallest spar of Douglas fir, shipped out of British Columbia, the Canadian National freighter Canadian Ranger reached here today from Victoria and Vancouver via Panama. This spar is 186 feet in length, measures thirty-six inches at the butt and ten inches at the top. It weighs 25,000 pounds and contains 5,000 feet board measurement.

It was cut by the Timberland Lumber Company and forwarded as a gift to the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

The Canadian National steamships and the Canada steamship lines agreed to further the gift by furnishing transportation from the coast through the St. Lawrence waterway to Toronto.

It was quite an undertaking to load and unload the spar, and the powerful floating crane of the Montreal Harbor Commissioners was ordered to lift the big stick out of the Canadian Ranger and place it on the deck of the inland vessel, the Lethbridge.

In addition to the spar the Canadian Ranger carries a large consignment of British Columbia lumber for local industries, and some of it will afterwards appear on the railways as part of the material used in making cars.

A great quantity of British Columbia timber and lumber is being carried to Quebec and Montreal this season, the Canadian National steamships sharing largely in the trade.

There are other good things on the Canadian Ranger including tinned pineapple from Singapore, salmon from British Columbia packers, and tea and rice from the Orient.

Montreal, July 16.—Montreal's new bridge across the St. Lawrence had its baptism last night when the first two ocean liners to dock since its completion passed under. The two ships were the Canadian Pacific liners Duchess of York, from Liverpool, and the Melita, from Glasgow and Belfast. Each carried a good lot of passengers which included several well-known Canadians.

Montreal, July 16.—Favorites held sway on the first day of racing at the annual exhibition which opened here yesterday. On one outstanding instance, however, Lord Hawke spilled the dope high, wide and handsome when he romped in first in the third race and paid $83.75 for $2 on the horse.

In this same race Jockey Wilkies, upon Rubber Ball, met with an accident when his saddle slipped a few yards from the wire, causing the boy to catch his mount around the neck and then when he pulled in his horse's head it fell. The jockey was buried underneath and it was a miracle that he was not seriously injured.

Edmonton, July 16.—Favorites held sway on the first day of racing at the annual exhibition which opened here yesterday. On one outstanding instance, however, Lord Hawke spilled the dope high, wide and handsome when he romped in first in the third race and paid $83.75 for $2 on the horse.

In this same race Jockey Wilkies, upon Rubber Ball, met with an accident when his saddle slipped a few yards from the wire, causing the boy to catch his mount around the neck and then when he pulled in his horse's head it fell. The jockey was buried underneath and it was a miracle that he was not seriously injured.

Edmonton, July 16.—When stumps were drawn at the end of yesterday's play in English cricket matches scores were:

At Blackheath—Surrey, 429 and 10 for no wickets; Kent, 402 (Hardings 141, Ames 106).

At Birmingham—Middlesex, 297 and 141 for no wickets; Warwickshire, 277 (Wyatt 125).

At Leyton—Essex, 315 and 249 for five wickets declared; Northants, 138.

At Brighton—Hants, 231 and 148 for four wickets; Sussex, 238.

KIWANIAN OF EDMONDS ARE VISITORS HERE

Guests of Victoria Kiwanis Club at Luncheon To-day; Are Seeing City.

Members of the Edmonds Kiwanis Club, with their wives and friends, were the guests of the Victoria Kiwanis Club this afternoon at the weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel. The delegation included nine members and ten ladies, who were given a civic welcome by Mayor Herbert Anscomb.

"It is always a privilege to welcome visitors from anywhere in the United States," said His Worship. "It is just such visits as this which bind our countries in closer ties of friendship." Mayor Anscomb believed the Pacific Coast had a great industrial future and would become pre-eminent in world commerce. He had pleasure in extending the warmest of welcomes on behalf of Victoria, the most western city of the British Empire," he said.

CLUB CONGRATULATED

Dr. W. J. Hindley, responding on behalf of the Edmonds Kiwanians, recalled that he was a Canadian by birth and expressed delight with the progress of Canada in recent years.

The Kiwanis Club of Edmonds, while small in numbers, was endeavoring to achieve results similar to those attained by the clubs of larger cities.

Dr. Hindley congratulated Victoria upon Harold M. Diggon's success in winning the Milwaukee International Convention to endorse a resolution denouncing the practice of spurious prophecy, by public speakers and newspapers, as to the next war.

The visitors arrived shortly after noon on the ferry steamer City of Victoria. After an afternoon spent shopping and as guests in individual Kiwanians, the visitors will this evening be taken for a drive around Saanich Peninsula, Sooke and over the Malahat, with a call at the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart. They will return to Edmonds on the City of Victoria's late sailing.

The delegation includes the following: A. A. Diggon, president, Ray V. Cloud, secretary, C. H. Blenz, H. M. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Yost, Dr. and Mrs. Carl E. Wahlstrom, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Hindley, daughter and grandson, Rev. J. H. and Mrs. Brynning and daughter, Mrs. H. Alris, Mrs. B. B. Demmonds and Mr. and Mrs. J. Stubbs.

VICTORIA IN HIGH ESTEEM, SAYS DIGGON

Publicity and Returned Visitors Build City's Reputation

Eastern Canada Now Hive of Industrial Activity; Prairie Crop Outlook Poor

"Victoria now holds a foremost place with people of the eastern states and provinces who look towards the Pacific Coast for their vacations," Harold M. Diggon reported this morning, following his return from the Kiwanis International Convention at Milwaukee.

"Everywhere I found that a favorable attitude towards the Victoria has been created. The remarkable publicity given this city by the railways has been supported by the high praise accorded Victoria in the event of tourists who have visited here during the past three or four years," Mr. Diggon states.

Mr. Diggon believed that co-operation of the railways, in routing to Victoria many delegates attending the larger conventions of the Pacific, has been a great factor in increasing the popularity of Victoria as a tourist resort.

GREAT INDUSTRY

Following the International Kiwanis Convention, Mr. Diggon visited the industrial centres of Ontario and reported tremendous activity in building, furniture and manufacturing. "Every body who wants to work has steady employment," he summarized. Prairie crop conditions, viewed from the return journey, were generally gloomy, the stand of wheat being extremely short and parched by drought. Mr. Diggon noted the tremendous industrial development now in progress at Regina, where vast plants are now in operation to cater to the prairie demand for automobiles, oil refinery products and farming machinery.

Speaking of the Kiwanis International Convention, Mr. Diggon recalled that support had been won for a resolution he had sponsored, which deprecated the practice of speakers and publications in referring to "the next war." He reported that a special committee had examined proposals for extension of Kiwanis to other states, but had found the time not yet ripe. The shadow of Mayor Thompson of Chicago had prevented support for a resolution advocating greater accuracy in school history textbooks.

KINDLY OFFERS

The liquor situation in Milwaukee had been somewhat notable, as police officers stationed outside the convention quarters had volunteered information as to where the delegates could obtain beer and whisky. Sales were not shrouded in secrecy and the state of Wisconsin was making no effort to enforce prohibition.

Mr. Diggon found that a large element of Ontario public opinion is opposed to stoppage of Canadian exports until the people of the United States clearly support the prohibition efforts of the Federal government. He believed that fear of surrendering the bargaining value of such a concession was also an important, though generally unspoken element in the attitude of eastern Canadians.

Frederick Palmer Studies Canadian Liquor System

Vancouver, July 16.—Liquor drinking, whether legal under the Canadian system of government control, or illegal as under prohibition in the United States, has nothing to do with the prosperity of either country. This is the considered opinion of Frederick Palmer, noted writer and correspondent, author, who has arrived in Vancouver in the course of a journey through Canada, the object of which is investigating the working of government control of liquor sales.

Mr. Palmer, who has now covered every province in the Dominion, is preparing a series of articles on the subject. "The extremist claims about drunkenness in Canadian provinces under government control are silly," declared the famous correspondent.

Kiwanis Club Pays Tribute To M. Garham

Standing in silence for one minute, the Victoria Kiwanis Club this afternoon paid tribute to the memory of Mark W. Garham, at the weekly luncheon held at the Empress Hotel.

Donald McArdle, vice-president, spoke of the great loss suffered by the Kiwanis Club and Victoria, in the passing of the late Mr. Garham, who had been the first president of the Victoria Kiwanis Club. He recalled Mr. Garham's activities in public affairs and the energy with which he had labored. "It is not easy to tell of the value of such a man as Mark Garham to the city, but his advice would be to 'carry on,'" said Mr. McArdle, summing all to their feet in tribute.

The Kiwanis Club also recorded sympathy with Kiwanian A. M. Kirk in the recent death of his father, Charles W. Kirk.

RACING BODY PAYS DEPOSIT ON AGREEMENT

Cheque Placed With City Following Action By Council Last Night

Acting as solicitors for Foote and Manzer, of the Colwood Park Racing Association Limited, E. H. M. Foot this afternoon placed with the city a cheque for $2,100 to cover racing concessions at the Willows grounds in accordance with the agreement between the association and the city.

This action followed steps taken by the city Council at its meeting last night to have the agreement which provided for a five-year lease of the track and concessions, declared null and void.

The agreement provides for the posting of this money, it is said, one month before racing is scheduled to start at the track. Dates set for the Willows meet are from August 17-24. Provision is also made in the agreement for the use of the track for "totalizer" betting machines, as set forth for use at the track, being unavailable, it is understood.

PHARMACY UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP

Business of C. H. Bowes, 1121 Government St., Bought By Arthur Minnis

Arthur Minnis, former manager of the drug department of the Hudson's Bay Company, has branched out into business for himself, having purchased the business of the well-known druggist, C. H. Bowes, at 1121 Government Street. The deal was put through by The Griffith Co., local real estate and insurance concern.

Mr. Minnis has been a registered pharmacist since 1914, having attended the Manitoba and Saskatchewan Colleges of Pharmacy in 1913 and 1914. Upon first coming to Victoria Mr. Minnis was associated with Mr. Bowes for six years, after which he took over a position with the Hudson's Bay Company.

The new proprietor is one of the most popular athletes in Victoria, and at the present time is president of the Victoria Capital Baseball Club, holders of the Senior "B" championship of British Columbia. He has played on various local clubs, and is one of the best all-round ball players in the city. He is also an expert tennis and badminton player. Besides being president of the Capitals Art is a valuable player.

Bowes Drug Store was established in 1896 and is one of the oldest pharmacies in Victoria. The store has been situated in the Arcade Building for the last seven years.

TWO FISHING VESSELS ARE TURNED FREE

United States Gas Boats We and Jeanette Given Release in Admiralty Hearings

Reasonable Excuse Accepted, But Vessels Must Pay Costs of Own Defence

The United States fishing vessels We and Jeanette were ordered released by Mr. Justice Martin in the Admiralty Division of the Exchequer Court this morning, at the close of argument in a series of four cases involving the May, Tacoma, Jeannette and the We.

All four craft were adjudged by the court to have provided reasonable excuse for their presence in Canadian waters at Goose Harbor in May last when seized by the fishery protection steamer Malaspina. The May and the Tacoma were released yesterday.

In ordering the return of the papers to the We and the Jeanette to-day, the court provided that both ships would pay the costs of their defence, the order for dismissal being made without costs against the Crown.

SEIZED BY RIVIDS

Hearing proceeded in the case of the King vs. the Mary C. Fischer, with the case for the Crown already in, and the defence opening to-day. C. H. O'Halloran appears for the Crown and William Savage for the vessel. The Mary C. Fischer was seized by the Canadian fishery protection cruiser Rivids at McIntyre Bay on May 29, and held for investigation.

Yesterday afternoon Capt. L. Sheppard, of the Rivids, told of seizing the vessel at McIntyre Bay in calm weather, and after what to his mind was a lack of reasonable excuse for her presence there. Later a story of engine trouble had been conveyed to him by Capt. Pillon of the Mary C. Fischer, said witness.

To Mr. Justice Martin this morning, Cliff Summerlin, navigator of the Mary C. Fischer, described the voyage of the vessel from Ketchikan to the Forrester fishing banks, where sixteen salmon were taken before fishing was stopped by a northwest gale. Capt. Pillon was confined to his berth with swollen tonsils and a heavy cold, and Summerlin told of a single-handed fight against wind and weather.

ANCHOR PARTED

While anchored on the fishing banks in the storm, said witness, the anchor parted from its chain and the Mary C. Fischer started drifting. Fresh efforts to anchor failed, and Summerlin endeavored in vain to start the engine. In this condition the vessel drifted past another fishing vessel, and shortly afterwards sustained damage to her masts and commenced taking water.

Then followed hours of drifting before the gale, said Summerlin, in which he made every effort to restart the engine. Shelter was finally secured at McIntyre Bay, after hardships which exhausted the crew of the vessel, said her navigator. The defence continues.

TEACHERS TOLD OF GREAT VALUE OF LITERATURE

Character Building Potentialities Stressed By A. M. Stephen at Summer School

Enriches Life and Gives Broader View, Speaker Says; Methods of Teaching Told

"I look upon literature as the most potent means of building character in children," stated A. M. Stephen, Canadian poet and author, in his address on "Literature in the Classroom," at the Summer School for teachers at Victoria High School this afternoon.

Following this remark, Mr. Stephen continued to show how the poetry and literary works read to children and studied by them manifested itself in their after life and conveyed to them different ideals that were of value to them as they grew older. In view of this fact, he added, it was extremely important to have the type of literature taught in the schools true to human experience.

The chief aim of literature, Mr. Stephen stated, was to show the possibilities of life, to enrich it and bring out the realities with force. Through reading and studying literature a broader conception of life and the world was to be gained.

DANGEROUS PRACTICE

It was a dangerous practice to give the children the type of literature they wanted, the speaker continued. Since the minds of the majority of young people were tinged with jazz music, moving pictures and comic strips, he considered them incapable of making a selection of really good literature and to counteract the evil influences of superficial trash imposed upon them through movies and other useless extraneous distractions.

In doing this work, Mr. Stephens deemed a thorough knowledge of literature and life most necessary. "The only way to convey the true meaning and beauty of a good piece by reading it aloud," the speaker said. He dealt with the experiments in oral expression being conducted in different universities throughout the world, and stated that this method would sooner or later be incorporated into the schools of this province.

DRAMATIZATION USEFUL

In dramatization he found another powerful means of imparting the meaning of literature to children. To illustrate this point the lecturer stated that while teaching he had given a section of his class Stevenson's novel, "Kidnapped," to dramatize. The children had taken the story and rewritten it for the stage. They had then selected a cast and produced their own version of the piece.

When tested on the novel in their examinations, the different boys and girls who had taken part in the play made over ninety per cent. in the tests. Yesterday Mr. Stephen opened his series at the Summer School with a lecture on "New Tendencies in Can-

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

WHEAT CROP IN CANADA CUT IN HALF

Winnipeg, July 16.—Cromwell in his report to-day says: "I feel that 31,000,000, 164,000,000 and 76,000,000 from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta respectively, are liberal figures for the crop this year, or a total about one-half of last year."

After 2,000 miles of inspection, B. W. Snow reported here that the Canadian crop will not exceed 320,000,000 bushels, and probably will be under 300,000,000 bushels.

"The losses from heat and wind Saturday, Sunday and Monday have been staggering," Mr. Snow said. "Rain now can only maintain the present status and substantial recovery is out of the question. The last few days have had the heaviest damage."

E. Parker, cash grain authority, said that present conditions warrant a two-dollar wheat in all markets in the very near future, but because of the present condition of the market there might be a ten to twenty cent break.

(Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.) Winnipeg, Man., July 16.—Wheat: The wheat market was nervous and erratic to-day and after the opening sharply higher with prices during the first period climbing to 5 1/2 to 4 1/2 above the previous close. The market then broke from 10 1/2 to 9 cents all months getting 4 1/2 under yesterday's close, which was again followed by a sharp reaction upward.

At the start there was some excellent buying that was credited to foreign account, with the country and commission houses also on the buying side, but these orders were quickly filled as liquidation of long wheat was extremely heavy and this class of selling continued, finally forcing the market into loss selling which carried the market to the low points of the day.

On the break, there developed a good class of support both from local and Eastern interests. One large order confirmed a very good business worked late yesterday in numbers three, four and five grades, but overnight business was very small. The cash wheat market was very slow which was not surprising considering the erratic action of July month. Local dealers were taking no four and lower grades, with the most interest shown in four and five and spreads were one cent lower to two cents higher.

Millers were not in the cash market while the report of a fair domestic demand for flour, export business was out of the question. The weather map showed extremely high temperatures over the west, and the general consensus of opinion is that these high temperatures have taken a heavy toll of the crop the past three or four days and heavy grain is left, which at best is only half a crop. The market looks about high enough for the present, and would buy wheat only on moderate reactions.

Futures closed 5/8 higher to 3/4 lower. Coarse grains—Oats and barley were strong with speculative buying going on, most of which was believed to be for country accounts. Very little export business could be confirmed. Flax market scored further gains. Trade continued light, but the new crop is reported as suffering.

People Laughed at Idea of New Telephone Line
People can now telephone clear across the Atlantic, and so it seems strange to boys and girls to-day to realize that it was not so terribly long ago that people laughed at the man who first believed that a telephone line could be built from one town to another.

The man with this idea was Theodore N. Vail, born July 16, 1845. Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone, but it was Mr. Vail who had faith in the idea and who organized telephone systems.
He wanted to build a line from Boston to Providence, which is not a very great distance. People said it couldn't be done, but he went ahead and built the line, though he was so short of money he sometimes hardly knew whether he'd have enough cash to pay for his next meal.
When the line was finally finished, something was wrong. It wouldn't work. "It told you so," every one said. But Mr. Vail's reply was, "Real difficulties can be overcome. It is only imaginary ones that are unconquerable."
He kept on working on the new line, and finally made it practical. And to-day people telephone across an ocean! (Copyright, 1929, by Republic Syndicate, Inc.)

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Up And Down

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time Baby Bunty hopped, skipped and jumped around the yard until she came to the easy chair where Uncle Wiggily was sitting half asleep, under the lilac bush.
"Uncle Wig!" gently called Baby Bunty. "Unkie Wig! Hoo oo!"
"Yes, what is it?" asked the rabbit gentleman, pretending he hadn't been asleep at all, but that he closed his eyes so he wouldn't see the sun shining.
"Will you please make me an Up and Down?" asked Bunty, being careful not to use any baby talk, which Uncle Wiggily didn't like.
"An Up and Down?" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "What in the world is an Up and Down, Bunty, my dear?"
"Oh, don't you know?" and Bunty seemed quite surprised. "First you are up and then you are down and sometimes you are in the middle."
Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose and tried to think what Bunty meant. But he couldn't. "I can't imagine. Even twinking his pink nose upside down didn't help much. So he said:

Uncle Wiggily tried to think.

"I don't know how to make an Up and Down, Bunty."
"Oh, yes you do," said the little orphan rabbit who lived at Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow as often as she did at any other place. "You made one last year for Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow."
Once more Uncle Wiggily shook his head.
"Oh, dear!" sighed Bunty.
"What's the matter?" asked Nurse Jane, who went out in the yard to see if the tablecloth, which she had washed earlier in the morning, was dry yet.
"Bunty wants what she calls an Up and Down," said Uncle Wiggily. "I can't seem to think what it is."
"Oh, of course you know, only you forget," laughed Bunty. "It has another name, but I can't think of it myself. It's a board over a box or a saw horse and you and somebody else sit on it and first you go up and then you go down."
"Oh, you mean a See Saw!" cried Uncle Wiggily.
"That's it!" shouted Bunty in delight. "Will you please make me one, Unkie Wig?"
"Yes," answered Mr. Longears. "I will." He was much pleased that Bunty used no more baby talk than just his name—"Unkie Wig."
So Mr. Longears found a box and then he found a long board which he put across the box and there was Bunty's Up and Down, or See Saw, or Teeter Tauter, whichever you wish to call it.
"Oh, now I'll have some fun!" cried Bunty and she jumped on one end of the board and sat there. Down went the See Saw with Bunty's weight on one end. But, though the little orphan rabbit waited, she did not go up in the air.
"Oh, Unkie Wig!" she cried. "I wanted you to make me an Up and Down but you only made a Down. Why don't I go up?"

"You will when someone sits on the other end of the board," said Nurse Jane. "Come, Uncle Wiggily," called the muskrat lady housekeeper. "You have done this much for Bunty you might as well finish. Sit on the high end of the board and make her go up."
Uncle Wiggily hopped on the high end of the board and all of a sudden, up went Bunty in the air like a bunny balloon. But there she stayed, high on the end of the plank, with Uncle Wiggily down on the other end. The rabbit gentleman was now down and Bunty was up.
"Oh, this isn't right!" cried Bunty, after staying up in the air for some time. "I want to go up and down. First I stay down, and then I stay up. I want to keep going up and down all the while like a See Saw ought to go."
The trouble is," squeaked Nurse Jane, "that Uncle Wiggily is too heavy for you Bunty. It needs some one of your own weight on the other end of the Teeter Tauter. Here comes Tingle, I'll call her."
As soon as Nurse Jane called Tingle, up came hopping the other little rabbit child. Uncle Wiggily let her take his place on the high end of the board and Bunty and Tingle, being the same weight, up and down they went like the scales in a drug store. Up and down, teeter tauter, see saw, Marjorie Dawn, bread and butter. La! La!
"Isn't it Up and Down just lovely?" cried Bunty.
"Your Up and Down!" laughed Nurse Jane. "It's more Uncle Wiggily's than it is yours." But Mr. Longears was glad to go back to sleep in his easy chair, leaving the rabbit girls to teeter and tauter. So everything came out all right. And if the teapoons will play rub a dub dub like a drum when they're swimming in the dishpan, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Chippy's coal.

AIRPORT MOVES AT VANCOUVER SPEED UP

Committees Studying Needs and Taking Options For Purchase of Field

Vancouver, July 16.—Notice of withdrawal by the North Fraser Harbor Commission of its offer to develop a civic airport was tabled by the Vancouver city council yesterday at a special meeting until methods of operation have been thoroughly investigated. A committee of Aldermen, G. W. Miller, Richard Wilson and E. W. Dean, was appointed to go into the question thoroughly, together with William Templeton, airport superintendent, and bring in a report to the council.

Another committee of Aldermen W. H. Lemke and Dean, A. J. Pilkington, city controller; Charles Brakenbridge, city engineer, and Mr. Templeton, was named to work on the matter of an airport site and given authority to take options on land.

MAYOR URGES SPEED
"All I have to say to these committees now," said Mayor W. H. Malkin, "is to ask them for goodness sake to get some quick action. I will call a special meeting of the council as soon as you advise me you have something to report either as regards a site or development policy."

Alderman Wilson strongly urged the Harbor Commission be allowed to withdraw its offer to raise $100,000 to develop the city proposed airport, and that if the city would provide the necessary funds to operate and that the civic authorities were quite capable of administering the project.

SALE OF BONDS
The principal advantage to Vancouver in the board's offer, in the opinion of Alderman Miller, was in the matter of selling bonds to raise the money. "I will be glad," he declared, "and the council must look into the future before refusing the offered assistance."

It was on Alderman Lemke's amendment that the aldermen laid the letter from the commissioners on the table. He suggested that, while $100,000 was not sufficient for the purpose, the board should be asked to intimate the lines along which it would proceed.

With amalgamation in effect, Alderman J. A. Paton could not see how the North Fraser body could continue to function much longer, and he felt the matter should be handled rather by the Vancouver Harbor Commission. FROM ALL ANGLES

"Do not turn their offer down yet," said the mayor, "until we have considered the question of control from all angles."

The form of administration should be chosen before location was definitely decided upon, Alderman Dean said, and he also desired to ascertain how the municipality of Richmond would assess airport property. In his opinion, the North Fraser body should be ready and willing to assist development very materially, as an adequate airport at Vancouver would be a great benefit to the province generally, especially to the forestry department.

The mayor pointed out that the civic committees would have the assistance in an advisory capacity of Major Earl McCleod, Major D. R. McLaren, E. C. W. Dobbin and Mr. Templeton, all of whom were familiar with the requirements of a civic airport and flying generally.

Vancouver at present has a temporary airfield.
